THE PRESIDENT STANDS UP FOR THE SOLDIERS

To Veterans of the Sixties He Pleads the Cause of Warriors of Today Who Are Fighting for Their Country.

MEN WHO UPHOLD LYNCHING DETRACTORS OF THE ARMY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—More important than many a presidential message in American history was a speech delivered today by President Roosevelt. It was an address made to Grand Army of the Republic veterans at Arlington cemetery as part of the exercises of Memorial Day.

In clear-cut phrases and stirring words, the president championed the soldiers in the Philippines, who are doing their duty in those far-away islands, just as the veterans of the sixties did theirs, nearer home. While condemning acts of barbarism, committed under strong provocation, he showed that the war in the orient, on the side of the army, has been characterized more by humanity than by cruelty. Without mincing words, the president intimated that those people who, while denouncing isolated cases of atrocity committed by white soldiers, fail to lift up their voices against a worse crime at home—the crime of lynching—had better pause in the effort to pull out the mote from the soldier's eye long enough to extract the beam from their own.

Three Cheers for the President.

The applause accorded the president as he concluded was long and continuous, and as he took his seat some one in the crowd cried out: "Three cheers for our brave president"—whereupon a mighty shout went up from the throats of the thousands who had crowded into every available space to hear him.

Music as furnished by the Marine band and by the Memorial choir.

A touching feature of the work of decoration was the strewing of the flowers over the graves of the confederate dead who lie buried in a section of the cemetery.

E. B. Hay read Lincoln's Gettysburg address, and President Roosevelt's speech followed. Gen. Eli Torrance, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. followed the president with a few remarks, and then the services were brought to a close with the playing of "America" by the band, the choir and assembly joining, and benediction by Henry S. Stevens, department chaplain.

Immediately after the memorial exercises at the amphitheater, the monument erected in memory of Col. Edgar O'Connor of the Second Wisconsin regiment was unveiled in the presence of a number of his comrades.

The president's speech in full follows:

The Memorial Day Custom.

Mr. Commander, Comrades, and you men and women of the United States who owe your being here to what was done by the men of the great civil war, I greet you and thank you for the honor done me in asking me to be present this day.

It is a good custom for our country to have certain solemn holidays in commemoration of our greatest men and of the greatest crises in our history. There should be but few such holidays. To increase their number is to cheapen them. Washington and Lincoln—the man who did most to found the Union, and the man who did most to preserve it—stand head and shoulders above all our other public men, and have by common consent won the right to this pre-eminence. Among the holidays which commemorate the turning points in American history, Thanksgiving has a significance peculiarly its own. On July 4 we celebrate the birth of a nation; on this day, the 30th of May, we call to mind the deaths of those who died that the nation might live, who wagered all that life holds dear for the great prize of death in battle, who poured out their blood like water in order that the mighty national structure raised by the far-seeing patriotism of Washington, Franklin, Marshall, Hamilton and the other great leaders of the revolution, great framers of the Constitution, should not crumble into meaningless ruins.

You whom I address today and your comrades who sleep each blue beside you in the perilous years during which strong, sad, patient, Lincoln bore the crushing load of national leadership, performed the one feat the failure to perform which would have meant destruction to everything which makes the name America a symbol of hope among the nations of mankind. You did the greatest and most necessary task which has ever fallen to the lot of any men on this western hemisphere. Nearly three centuries have passed since the waters of our coasts were first furrowed by the keels of the men whose children's children were to inherit this fair land. Over a century and a half of colonial growth followed the settlement; and now for over a century and a quarter we have been a nation.

The Crisis of 1861.

During our four generations of national life the only really vital task was the one we have had to do in many tasks, and some of them, of far-reaching importance; but one you did, the task of saving the Union. There were other crises in which to have gone wrong would have meant disaster; but this was the one crisis in which to have gone wrong would have meant not merely disaster but annihilation. For failure at any point atonement could have been made; but had you failed in the iron days the loss would have been irreparable, the defeat irretrievable. Upon your success depended all the future of the people on this continent, and much of the future of mankind as a whole.

You left us a reunited country. You left us the right of brotherhood with the men in gray, who with such courage, and such devotion for what they deemed the right, fought against you. But you left us much more even than your achievement, for you left us the memory of how it was achieved. You, who made good by your valor and patriotism the statesmanship of Lincoln and the soldiership of Grant, have set as the standards for our efforts in the future both the way you did your work in war and the way in which when the war was over you turned again to the work of peace. In war and in peace alike your example will stand as the wisest of lessons to us and our children and our children's children.

Just at this moment the army of the United States, led by men who served among you in the great war, is carrying to completion a small but peculiarly trying and difficult war in which is involved not only the honor of the flag but the triumph of civilization over forces which stand for the black chaos of savagery and barbarism. The task has not been as difficult or as important as yours, but, oh, my comrades, the men in the uniform of the United States, who have for the last three years patiently and uncomplainingly championed the American cause in the Philippine islands, are your younger brothers, your sons. They have shown themselves not unworthy of you, and

STATE BRIDGES HELP TO SECURE AID FOR ELKIN

Stone Machine Has New Scheme to Acquire State Delegates.

BARGAIN DAY PLAN COSTS MUCH MONEY

Any county that wants a state bridge and has delegates to give in exchange can no doubt be accommodated by the Stone machine. There are 31 applications on file at Harrisburg at present, and strange as it may seem, John P. Elkin, Gov. W. A. Stone's candidate for governor has gathered in 34 delegates from these counties.

It will be noticed that every power under the control of Stone is being exerted to secure delegates for Elkin. The millions of state deposits are being manipulated in the interest of the Stone candidate. Every man on the payroll who can be forced to take orders from Stone has been sent out to beg and threaten, to secure delegates for the man Stone has selected to succeed himself. By this succession Stone hopes to remain in power.

Stone's last card is a bargain in bridges. Most counties have navigable streams, and all counties have delegates to the Republican state convention. Bridges are expensive structures, and it is quite an inducement to offer a bridge free of charge. The man who engineers the deal for the county figures on reaping benefits by the political prestige he can get as posing as a benefactor of the local taxpayer.

Recently Became Active.

The legislature of 1895 made a law authorizing the state to rebuild county bridges over navigable rivers and other streams which have been declared public highways by act of assembly, where such structures have been destroyed. Although this act has been on the statute books for seven years, few counties have taken advantages of it until quite recently. The rush for free bridges appears to have come with the necessity for Elkin delegates.

The plan of procedure is to petition the Dauphin county courts for the appointment of five viewers to inquire into the necessity of the structure. This brings the attorney general into the proceedings. He selects four viewers and the court names the fifth. These men can be named from the state at large. They receive $10 a day, and it usually takes them three days to reach a decision. It gives the attorney general, who is a candidate for governor, an opportunity to throw $150 worth of sop where it will do the most good.

After the court confirms the viewers' report the board of public buildings and grounds, whose members are Gov. Stone, Auditor General Hardenbergh and State Treasurer Harris, proceed to let a contract for the bridge, under the advice and direction of Attorney General Elkin. After the structure is completed six inspectors are appointed to inspect the work.

How Elkin Has Benefited.

There have been 31 applications made for state bridges in 15 counties since the Stone machine has been attempting to nominate Elkin for governor. The following table shows the demands made by the counties and the success Elkin has had in these same counties:

Bridges.	County.	Delegates.
6	Bradford	4
2	Sullivan	—
2	Wyoming	1
5	Wayne	—
1	Luzerne	8
4	Lycoming	4
2	Columbia	—
1	Lehigh	—
1	Clearfield	4
1	Jefferson	3
1	Lackawanna	—
1	Berks	7
1	Forest	—
1	Center	1
1	Juniata	1
31		34

This method of campaigning appears to be productive of results for the Stone machine, but will prove very expensive to the state if all of these bridges are built. It will cost an immense amount of money to build 31 bridges, especially when the state is doing the work, for the board of public grounds and buildings has luxurious tastes. The mere item of viewers will cost the taxpayers a large wad of money. Then this is followed by the six inspectors.

HERBERT LIKELY TO BE SUCCESSOR OF PAUNCEFOTE

British Secretary at Paris Is Thought to Have a Good Chance.

HAS AN AMERICAN WIFE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, May 30.—The Hon. Michael Henry Herbert, secretary to the British embassy at Paris, will probably be the next British ambassador to the United States.

Mr. Herbert's appointment will probably not be announced until the remains of Lord Pauncefote arrive in England. The only question in regard to Mr. Herbert's selection is the approval of King Edward.

Mr. Herbert's marriage with Lelia, daughter of Richard T. Wilson of New York, as a result of which he became closely related to the Vanderbilts, Ogden Goelets and Astors, will not interfere, according to opinion here, with his usefulness at Washington. Mr. Herbert's record at Washington as charge d'affaires from 1888 until 1889, as secretary to the British legation there from 1892 to 1893, and his work as British agent on the Venezuelan commission eminently fit him for his proposed new duties.

LURID HAWAIIAN SUNSETS.

Government Meteorologist Attributes Them to Volcanic Dust.

HONOLULU, May 24, via San Francisco, May 30.—The effects of the volcanic eruption at St. Pierre are supposed to have been felt here. Last night there was a lurid sunset, and the sunrise following was equally startling. Without clouds to make such a color, there was a red glare on the horizon as the sun went down and rose, and it was attributed here to volcanic dust from St. Pierre.

Prof. C. J. Lyons, government meteorologist here for many years, says the phenomenon is similar to that observed here after the tremendous volcanic explosion at Krakatoa in 1883.

CINCINNATI LEAVES STRICKEN ISLAND

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 30.—Secretary Moody received dispatches today concerning conditions at Martinique. Commander Thomas C. McLean, commanding the Cincinnati, thus cabled from Fort de France under date of the 29th:

"Volcanic eruptions continue. There are occasional great outbursts at intervals of a few days, mostly columns and masses of clouds, steam, smoke and ashes, shooting up quickly to great heights. These alarm the people, but no serious damage is being done outside of the district where the first devastations occurred. There are plenty of supplies here. The French admiral, with three ships, has arrived. Two more are expected daily. He is cordial and grateful and is able to manage everything now without assistance. The Cincinnati goes to Castries on the morning of the 30th."

In another dispatch Commander McLean says George Kennan, the writer and lecturer, was heard from on the 29th, traveling up the country.

Commander Berry of the Dixie cables from St. Lucia today that he is going to Martinique and that unless otherwise ordered, thence to New York.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Since noon cable communication between Porto Plata, Haiti, and Fort de France has been interrupted.

WHOLE COUNTRY TO BE TIED UP BY TEAMSTERS

Packing Houses in All Big Western Centers to Be Attacked Monday.

CHICAGO'S MEAT FAMINE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, May 30.—The four big packing concerns at conferences today with union leaders representing the striking teamsters refused to grant any concessions.

Thousands of persons had their usual supply of meat cut off and many others paid fancy prices. All through the city butchers closed their places and many will not open until the strike is settled. Meat is delivered to hotels and restaurants by armed drivers, as a result of attacks made yesterday on teamsters in the employ of Irwin brothers.

Chicago began to realize today that a meat famine is imminent. Butchers who have bought of the packers fighting the striking stock yards teamsters lost their ice supply. Restaurants were in straits to procure choice meats. Holiday crowds blocked wagons and cheered the strikers.

Every packing house in the west belonging to the "big six" is to be attacked by the teamsters' union on Monday if the local companies do not recede from their position and sign the agreement.

The tie-up in Chicago, which is declared complete, is to be carried to Omaha, Kansas City, St. Joseph and St. Louis, and the teamsters, whose national headquarters are in Chicago, have received assurance from their locals at those points that all the men will obey the summons and go out.

The decision to make the call was reached today by the executive council of the National Teamsters' union, and came after a conference with Louis F. Swift of Swift & Co. and Edward Morris of Nelson Morris & Co., both of whom refused even to discuss the terms of the agreement the teamsters wished signed.

Detachment of the Grand Army Decorating the Graves of Comrades in the Soldiers' Plot, Allegheny Cemetery.

NATION'S DEAD REMEMBERED BY THOUSANDS

Crowds Visit Cemeteries and Aid in Paying Tribute to the Fighting Patriots of Three Wars.

GRAVES DECORATED BY COMRADES IN ARMS

With beautiful and impressive ceremonies the soldiers of three wars yesterday paid loyal tribute to their dead comrades, adorning their graves with flowers, and the flag for which they fought and died. Thousands of people visited the various cemeteries. The day was an ideal one. No clouds marred the sky, and the warm sunshine was tempered with pleasant breezes.

The outpouring of people at the cemeteries yesterday exceeded by many thousands any former occasion since the Spanish war, and from early morning before the memorial exercises began, until the sun sank below the western hills the burial places were thronged with people strewing and planting flowers. As the day was one of the most beautiful of the spring the exercises were carried out by all the Grand Army posts as programmed. The services at both the Allegheny and Uniondale cemeteries were unusually impressive, and many thousands of people thronged both places while the formal exercises were in progress.

The Union Services.

Union memorial exercises were held last night at Carnegie music hall, Allegheny, under the auspices of the Lieut. James M. Lysle Post No. 128. An eloquent address by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy was the feature of the exercises. Rabbi Levy's remarks elicited frequent applause. He said that ours was the only nation that held an anniversary in honor of its soldier dead, while other nations celebrated the victories won by their arms.

The United States, he said, was the only nation that had fought for righteous motives and all its wars had been founded on high principles.

The speaker brought forth enthusiastic applause by his mention of the names of the heroes of the civil and Spanish-American wars. The demonstration when Admiral Schley's name was referred to, was marked. Hobson, he said, had almost kissed himself into obscurity, but would go down in history as one of the finest examples of American patriotism and heroism.

Lisle post held special services yesterday morning in connection with the interment of William McC. Kirkpatrick of Duquesne, a member of the post.

Two Spanish War Heroes.

In Uniondale cemetery, where reposes the remains of Lieut. Fred W. Jenkins, who was killed in the blowing up of the Maine, and that of Capt. Theophilus Morrison of the Sixteenth United States infantry, who lost his life in the battle of San Juan hill July 1, 1898, the exercises were conducted by the Spanish War veterans. These graves were a special point of interest to the visitors at the cemetery yesterday, and they both received marked attention from the Grand Army of the Republic. The graves of these two heroes of the Spanish war are within 30 feet of one another under the shade of a beautiful elm tree.

At the Allegheny cemetery the attendance was unusually large, but the gun fire of former years was missed during the parade from Forty-third street. For the first time in the history of the G. A. R. no salute was fired from the Allegheny arsenal. This was because the guns had been shipped away when the arsenal was abandoned, being fired for the last time when the funeral train of President McKinley passed through the city.

At Allegheny Cemetery.

The Grand Army, Sons of Veterans and Boys' brigade formed at 8 o'clock in Grant street and marched down Fifth avenue to Liberty street, where cars were taken to Forty-third street. Minute guns were fired by Battery B during the parade and the national salute fired at noon. The orator of the day at the Allegheny cemetery was the Rev. W. A. Stanton, pastor of the Shady Avenue Baptist church. After strewing the soldiers' graves with flowers the members of the G. A. R. posts again assembled and the memorial services were held. The following program was rendered:

Music, band; "How Sleep the Brave," Post No. 3, G. A. R., choir; reading general orders, Adjt. Gen. R. F. Johnston; "The Union Soldier," choir; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, George H. Woods, Post No. 5; commander's address, James E. Porter, Post No. 3; prayer, the Rev. J. K. McClurkin; "Sleep, Comrade, Sleep," choir; oration, the Rev. W. A. Stanton, "The Nation's Tribute," choir; formal deposit of flowers, William Collingwood, W. J. Hamilton, Post No. 5; William Hall, Post No. 41, and Frank J. Tetley, Post No. 250, saluting the dead, Post No. 41 firing squad, "Abide With Me," choir; benediction, the Rev. J. K. McClurkin.

In his address among other things the Rev. W. A. Stanton said:

Address of Day.

Freedom! the seat of war for this today is in our cities. What they are our country is. It is the day of the boss, the boodler and the briber. Our veterans should stand shoulder to shoulder in making those names as contemptible as you once made the name "copperhead." Beware of him who calls himself American, but makes no patriotism with his politics except in his campaign speeches just before election, whose politics are for revenue only. Beware of him, home or foreign-born, who loves another flag better than he does "Old Glory" and at the same time appeals to the protection "Old Glory" gives. Beware of him who by voice, vote or conspiracy does aught to harm the characteristic institution of a government that is of the people, for the people, by the people, free speech, press, ballot, schools, church, free city, state and national legislation; a government for a public office a public trust and not a public steal nor a royal scepter.

In the seventeenth century our patriotic orators in their most daring flights never sent the American eagle soaring beyond the Catskill crests. In the eighteenth century he touched the peaks of the Alleghenies and dipped his beak into the waters of the great lakes. In the nineteenth century he crossed the Mississippi, swept over the plains, screamed from the snows of the Rockies, perched on the edges of the Sierras, spread his flight at California's golden gate and rested for 50 years save for an excursion to Alaska's glaciers and golden sands, in the dawning of the twentieth century he fanned the waves of the Pacific with his wings until Hawaii's groves invited him to test their tropical fruits and then on again until he ruffled the waters of Manilla bay.

Special Post Services.

Besides the general memorial exercises several of the posts had special services. Col. James H. Childs post No. 230, of Allegheny, held their services at the grave of Col. Childs in Allegheny cemetery. The commander's address was delivered by J. Mathews; Lincoln's address, read by J. N. Taylor, and prayers, conducted by Chaplain Jacob Delaney.

Duquesne post No. 239 held special services at the grave of Col. Hartley

ARMORED TRAINS USED TO PROTECT BIG COLLIERIES

COMPANIES READY FOR A LONG SIEGE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Pottsville, Pa., May 30.—Armored trains provided with loopholes for rifles and revolvers were sent to different parts of the Schuylkill coal region today for the use of special policemen at the collieries. An official of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company said this evening:

"There will be a camp train consisting of from one to four cars at all collieries, and where the operations are isolated there will be a train for each colliery, but wherever possible the camp trains will be made to do service for two, three or more collieries. Our police as a rule will wear the regulation blue uniforms adopted a year or so ago. They will be armed with revolvers, but they will have Winchester repeating rifles handy, and plenty of ammunition to use in them.

"We have used extra care in selecting the new policemen and some official of the company personally vouched for every man. Wherever possible, the police force is to be recruited from among the trusted employes in other departments and preference will be given to the old soldiers and former national guardsmen.

"It is hardly necessary to repeat that the companies will only agree to one thing, and that is the men must go back without any agreement. We will keep the pumps going if it requires the calling to our assistance of the local civil authorities, and even the military arm of the United States government."

AN INSANE VIOLINIST HAUNTS LULU GLASER

First Demands Money and Then Sends Strange Letters—Once With Pittsburgh Orchestra.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 30.—Max Hilderbrandt, a violinist, was arrested at the stage door of the Herald Square theater this evening, charged with annoying Miss Lulu Glaser, the Pittsburgh actress. Hilderbrandt, who says he played in the Pittsburgh orchestra, is rested loudly that he had done no harm.

Miss Glaser received her first letter from Hilderbrandt two weeks ago. He is said to have asked for money, and when no attention was paid to his request he sent communications which Miss Glaser's managers construed as threats. One of them contained a target purporting to show Hilderbrandt's record as a revolver shot. On Friday an envelope containing newspaper clippings and an empty shell of a revolver was received. In all five communications from Hilderbrandt were received, and he hung about the theater nightly.

LOYAL FILIPINO SPEECH.

Head of the Island Federal Party Visits Mount Vernon and Eulogizes George Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30.—Felipe Buencamino, head of the federal party in the Philippines, accompanied by the Filipinos in Washington, made a pilgrimage of Mount Vernon today. Buencamino made an address at the tomb of Washington, in which he said:

"Brothers—It has been written in the history of this republic that Washington is 'first in peace, first in war, and first in the hearts of his countrymen.' We must insist that hereafter the following words be added hereto: 'Washington also occupies the first place, next to the immortal Dr. Rizal, in the hearts of the Filipinos.'

"The practical, useful and beneficial action on our part is to give our loyal, noble and sincere assistance to the government of the United States in the difficult work of the regeneration of our country.

"Brothers, glory to Washington, glory to America, glory to the Philippines, and let us have faith that the American government will effect a regeneration of a beneficial character of our nation, because I was thus assured yesterday morning by President Roosevelt, and President Roosevelt spoke in the name of the great people of the United States."

Howard in Allegheny cemetery. It is the custom of this post, after placing flowers on the graves of all its deceased members, to gather at the grave of the comrade last buried for a memorial service. This year it was at Col. Hartley's grave, who died last May, that the ceremony took place.

L. E. Johns, post commander, was in charge. The Rev. Dr. Matthew B. Riddle, chaplain of the post, made the opening prayer, and Adjt. Samuel W. Hay read a letter from Miss Rebecca Howard, a sister of Col. Howard, who, detained in the west by the serious illness of another sister, could not be present.

Capt. William P. Herbert delivered the oration. Dr. Riddle spoke briefly of the rapidly nearing time when the men of the Grand Army would all be gone and pronounced the benediction. The ceremonies were closed with three volleys fired over Col. Howard's grave by a squad from the Boys' brigade.

In Uniondale.

At Uniondale cemetery in Allegheny veterans of the Mexican and civil wars mingled with the youths of the Spanish war in decorating the graves of the heroic dead. The Grand Army posts were assisted in the work of decorating the graves by Friend W. Jenkins post of the Spanish War veterans, the United Boys' brigade and the children of the Sixth ward public school.

The scene in the cemetery was impressive. Along the avenues in the silent city of the dead the long, thin line of blue slowly wended its way to the sad strains of the funeral march. Thousands were at the cemetery before the veterans arrived, decorating the graves of their departed loved ones, but all stopped to salute the grizzled heroes as they marched past.

The Allegheny posts of the G. A. R. and the Boys' brigade, with a detachment of the Friend W. Jenkins camp of the Spanish War veterans, assembled in Stockton avenue at 9 a. m., and upon the firing of the signal gun the column took up its march to Ohio street, where a detachment was sent to Troy Hill cemetery.

Impressive Services.

At Uniondale the command was again separated, one detachment taking Division No. 1, on the left of the Brighton road, while another took Division No. 2, on the right.

At the graves of Lieut. Friend W. Jenkins the ceremonies were conducted by the camp named in his honor. They were exceedingly impressive. Each member of the camp, after a short service, walked before the grave, and, after saluting the flag, repeated the name and rank of the dead officer, with the date of his death. Taps were then sounded. The graves of four other men who lost their lives in this war were treated in a similar manner.

As soon as the various graves had been decorated with flags and flowers all those participating in the memorial services assembled at the platform erected. Surrounding the platform was a battalion of little girls from the Sixth ward public school. They were dressed in white, with Tam O'Shanter hats, and their marching as they escorted the soldiers would have done honor to a crack battalion of the National guard. James Francis Burke was theorator of the day. In his address he said:

A Day of Memory.

"This is the day upon which the patriotic spirit of every loyal, liberty-loving American pins on paper in our journey while we drop a blessing and a blossom upon the silent resting place of every soldier of the republic. Had the soldier chosen to live and let the republic perish, what might have been? Indeed, what pen can attempted to describe the appalling consequences! The map of liberty would have been changed and the whole history of the people of two hemispheres altered. * * * The United States army, its navy, its gallant navy on the seas! No capitol at Washington, no president to guide, no cabinet to counsel, no congress to deliberate, no representative form of government in the world's eye.

"The history of America—statesmanship robbed of the names and achievements of Lincoln, Grant, Garfield and Sherman; of the gallant and noble Roosevelt, today! The world's naval history deprived of the triumphs of Dewey, Sampson, Schley, Wainwright, Hobson and a host of others. Military annals robbed of the fame of Sheridan, Logan, one of the dashing trouvers of Sherman, Sheridan, Logan, Hooker, Meade, Hancock, Longstreet and Robert E. Lee. All brave and generous men.

What Might Have Been.

"Instead of being the most potent governmental force on the earth today, commanding respect and wielding an influence for good wherever we unfurl our flag, we would be but the rallying point for the scattered forces of a few insignificant struggling principalities or territories probably dependent for our life and form of government upon the passing jealousies and the fickle, treacherous diplomacy of the rival courts of Europe.

"All this because from the beginning to the end of that conflict these unyielding champions of liberty gladly responded to the final call and fought to the death with every heart beat whispering:

"In the beauty of the lilies
Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom
That transfigured you and me.
As He died to make men holy
Let us die to make men free.

"And today in many of the burial grounds of the nation they are sleeping as they fought, side by side, shoulder touching shoulder, with their faces looking toward the light of liberty and the justice of the day of judgment. And still, after all these years, today, their spirit still goes marching on."

In St. Mary's Cemetery.

The exercises at St. Mary's cemetery began at 11 o'clock after the close of the ceremonies at the Allegheny Cemetery. After a dirge by the band a quartet sang "Strew Flowers O'er Their Graves," and "Tread Lightly O'er Their Graves," and "Nearer, My God to Thee." Miss Nellie Foteom sang a solo, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground."

The Rev. John G. Beane of St. Paul's Roman Catholic cathedral, was the orator of the day. The following program was carried out:

Reading of orders, Comrade J. P. Sankey, adjutant general Post No. 480; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, Comrade Dr. J. C. Kennedy, Post 41; prayer, Rev. L. A. O'Connell; "Tread Lightly O'er Their Graves," choir; commander's address, Frank J. Totten, commander of the day, Post 259; solo, "A Tear for the Comrade That's Gone," Mrs. Homer Force; "Under the Flowers Our Brave Soldiers Sleep," choir; placing of flowers, Edward Abel, W. T. Banks, William Hall and George Wineland; saluting the dead, Post 41 firing squad; benediction, Rev. L. A. O'Connell.

On the South Side.

The exercises in the South Side cemetery were conducted by Col. J. W. Patterson Post No. 158, and Lieut. E. R. Geary Post No. 259. They were assisted by Col. H. B. Hays Camp No. 4, Maj. E. A. Montooth Camp No. 188, Sons of Veterans, and the Origan quartet. Lincoln's address was read by A. C. Frank, Adjt. D. A. Jones read the orders. Rev. J. A. Johnson offered prayer, Commander Jacob Bruden made the opening address and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. J. T. Smalley. After the services the graves of the soldier dead were decorated by details appointed for the South Side, St. Michael's, old Methodist, St. Paul's, Concord, Zimmerman's, SS. Joseph and George's and St. Wendelin and Outer St. Paul's cemeteries.

Col. James E. Barnett of the Tenth regiment, ex-state treasurer, was the orator of the day. He delivered a stirring address.

The services at the Troy Hill cemetery were very simple. The Vosgley cadets, Epworth guards and Camp No. 98, Sons of Veterans, acted as escort to Post No. 128. The following program was carried out: Music, Grand Army band; charge, Commander William C. Knock; dirge, Grand Army band; prayer, Post Chaplain Samuel Hough; address, Post Commander W. C. Knock; formal decoration of graves; "America," Grand Army and assembly; benediction.

Minersville and Oakland.

Memorial services at the Minersville and Oakland cemeteries were conducted by Post No. 157. One of the interesting features of the program was the work of a chorus of 25 voices from the grammar department of the Bellefield public school. The orator of the day was the Rev. N. L. Brown, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church.

At Lincoln cemetery, the colored burying ground, where most of the local colored soldiers are interred, the orator of the day was the Rev. Marshall B. Lanier, colored, pastor of Grace Memorial Presbyterian church, Arthur street. The exercises were conducted by Col. R. G. Shaw Post No. 206, and the following program was gone through with: The commander's address was delivered by M. . Barks. Other addresses were made by the Rev. J. W. Jeffries, Dr. W. D. Clinton and Attorneys William Stanton and J. W. Holmes. The Rev. J. C. Temple made a prayer at the opening of the exercises, and J. H. Harris pronounced the benediction. The commander of the post, W. S. Loury, read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The music was under the charge of the choir of Grace Memorial church.

Monument Unveiled.

The few old soldiers who have been so unfortunate as to be sent to the workhouse were not forgotten yesterday by the Rev. A. J. Youst of McKeesport, who went there and held interesting Memorial services.

The unveiling of the soldiers' monument in Richland cemetery, Dravosburg, was an interesting event yesterday. The pedestal is eight feet high and on top is the bronze statue of an infantryman. The money for the monument was raised by the old soldiers in the vicinity of McKeesport. On the base is inscribed: "Erected in Honor of Those Who Fought for the Union, 1861-1865." The services were arranged by Black post, No. 150, of McKeesport, and were attended by the Boys' brigade and the Dewey infantry. W. N. Whitaker was marshal. The speakers were Capt. J. A. Reed and J. H. Kerr of Pittsburgh.

Memorial Day was remembered by the friends of the Newsboys' Home, and last night there were interesting services. Addresses were delivered by S. L. Blair and Hugh Kennedy.

MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD IN BOROUGHS

Crowds Visited Cemeteries and Saw Honors Paid to Soldier Dead of Three Wars.

Memorial Day was generally observed throughout the boroughs, and in many cemeteries there were larger crowds than ever before.

About 8,000 persons attended the services in Chartiers cemetery, Carnegie, yesterday morning. Espy post of Carnegie, Garfield post, No. 215, of Pittsburgh; Company K, Fourteenth regiment, and 25 young women from the Thirty-fifth Ward school, Pittsburgh, took part. Col. W. J. Glenn was marshal. The oration was by the Rev. J. B. Starkey.

The residents of Turtle Creek, Wilmerding and East Pittsburgh assembled at 9:30 a. m. yesterday at Church Hill cemetery, where memorial services were held under the auspices of Turtle Creek Council No. 28, Junior Order of American Mechanics. The post of Grand Army men located at Turtle Creek had passed out of existence, the veterans having become too few to keep the charter of a G. A. R. post. The members of the Junior Order United American Mechanics and all the school children of Turtle Creek, numbering 600, took part in the exercises.

The day was generally observed in Braddock and over 2,000 people attended the exercises held in the two cemeteries. The ceremonies in the Braddock cemetery were held at the Soldiers' monument. The Rev. George E. Hawes, pastor of the Park Avenue United Presbyterian church, delivered the address, his subject being "Soldiers of Pennsylvania."

When the program was completed at the Braddock cemetery almost 2,000 people followed the parade to the Monongahela cemetery at Copeland, North Braddock, where a similar program was carried out at the vault that contains the remains of Capt. W. R. Jones. The address at the Monongahela cemetery was delivered by the Rev. William J. Bucher, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, Fifth street, Braddock. The exercises were in charge of members of Mad. A. M. Harper Post No. 181, G. A. R. of Braddock.

The memorial services in the East End were in charge of McPherson Post No. 217. The post assembled at its headquarters and went to Homewood cemetery, where the Rev. W. E. McCullough of the Hamilton Avenue United Presbyterian church made an address. The Lutheran cemetery was then visited and the usual exercises held. The Rev. C. Schlafer of St. Paul's German Lutheran church delivered the oration.

Exercises were held in old Beulah cemetery, two miles from Wilkinsburg, by W. G. Lowry Post No. 548. The usual program was carried out.

In Sewickley cemetery the services were in charge of a committee of the local G. A. R. The orator of the day was the Rev. N. J. Brown. A quartet of G. A. R. Post No. 5 sang a number of selections. The Washington Infantry acted as escort to Post No. 3.

THOUSANDS CAME AND WENT ON RAILROADS

Pittsburghers Went for Breathing Spell Into Country, While Visitors Thronged City Streets.

Decoration Day has always been one of heavy travel to nearby pleasure resorts for Pittsburghers, but this year eclipsed all records. Early in the morning, when the first special trains started, the various passenger stations began to fill with people, young and old, men, women and children, and, most important of all, huge lunch baskets. The beauty of the day made the crowds still larger than they would have been on a less attractive holiday, and the summer girl was everywhere in the gayest of colored shirtwaists, while the Panama-hatted escort was just as much in evidence. From the incoming trains thousands poured in arrayed in holiday attire.

No less than 20 extra trains had been provided by the various Pittsburgh lines to handle the excursionists, but even when the regular trains had been packed and people were standing in the aisle, the extra equipment was scarcely sufficient. As each train was pulled up and the gates opened there was a scamper for seats and some of the summer finery came out of the rush in bad shape. Such incidents, however, were only what was expected, and the good nature of the crowds was maintained in all but few cases.

And what crowds they were. In the same train, going to the same parks, were rich and poor; the well-to-do professional man, his wife and daughters were jostled as indiscriminately as the laborer and his companions. A feeling of gladness to get out in the country for the first holiday of the summer season permeated all the throngs alike.

Mingled with the crowds were not a few whose mission was evidently more solemn than that of the others. These carried huge bouquets of flowers and wreaths, and their destinations were plainly cemeteries, where the soldier dead of the families are at rest.

As to the total number who left town the nearest estimate that could be furnished is 25,000. Of this portion the great bulk was en route to parks along the various lines.

With all the outpouring crowds the city was almost as popular as ever, for the excursion rates drew great throngs, and the visitors from nearby towns were much in evidence on the downtown streets. Fully 15,000 visitors were in the city. For Woodland Beach, Ashtabula, the Lake Erie started from Pittsburgh four long special trains, three more to Cascade Park, New Castle, and an equal number to Aliquippa park. The Pittsburgh & Western and the Bessemer carried to Conneaut Lake three special trains, while the Baltimore & Ohio ran a special train to Wheeling and two to Ohio Pyle.

On the Pennsylvania lines there were four special trains, two to Rock Springs, at Chester, W. Va., and two others to Rock Point, near Rochester. In addition the crowds on the regular Pennsylvania trains were most unusual and the overflow from the waiting room of the Union station reached out under the cab stand and along the wide approaches.

THE HOLIDAY CROWDS.

Thousands upon thousands of Pittsburgh people enjoyed the first holiday of summer yesterday. The parks were thronged with a lively mob of people bent upon having a good time, and the excursion steamers carried crowds up the Monongahela river. It was a splendid day for a holiday; clear and pleasantly warm, with a bright sun and not even a threat of rain.

The greatest crowds seemed to go to the parks maintained by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, commonly called traction parks. Of these Kennywood and Calhoun got the greatest percentage of the pleasure seekers, and they were thronged all day. During the afternoon people who had enough good time for one day started home, but even at that the crowds grew, as it seemed there were five people coming for every one leaving. Outbound cars were crowded, while city bound cars were only comfortably filled. The number of visitors to the four parks numbered over 100,000.

Many people went for an all day stay, taking their lunch or supper with them, gathering in quiet spots at meal time. It was a jolly, good-natured crowd, with a remarkable absence of intoxicated persons. They amused themselves with the diversions at hand, wandering about from dancing pavilion to band stand, taking in everything en route.

In the dancing pavilion a crowd of young men and women whirled about, perspiring but enjoying themselves despite the heat. At intervals a "bang!" showed where some youngster was shooting firecrackers, even if yesterday was not the Fourth of July. During the afternoon the band concerts drew big crowds. At Calhoun, Southern and Oakwood there were balloon ascensions, and at Kennywood the Order of Foresters had a big outing.

People were willing to spend their money yesterday, and everyone seemed to have a supply of currency stowed away. They readily patronized every catch-penny arrangement in the parks and had a fine time doing it. All seemed to think that yesterday was a holiday, and for pleasure, and they made the most of it. Children romped about, while the older people sat and chatted in small groups in shady places.

Crowds flocked to the Allegheny parks yesterday. Numerous private picnics were given in the cool, secluded nooks of Riverview park, near the end of the Perrysville avenue traction line. Riverview park is a favorite place for private picnics and outings, and there was an unusual number of these parties yesterday.

The central parks in Allegheny were thronged during the afternoon and evening. These breathing places in the downtown section were greatly relished by hundreds. The children were allowed the freedom of the grass and gamboled on the green to their hearts' content, while their elders crowded the paths and filled the benches.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY WAS NOT FORGOTTEN

A Carload of Flowers Sent to Canton. How the Day Was Observed in Other Towns.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CANTON, O., May 30.—Memorial services in Canton today were conducted under the auspices of the two G. A. R. posts of the city. Gen. Ed S. Myers of Cleveland was the chief orator, and delivered an eloquent address at the tabernacle.

The tomb of President McKinley and the tributes to him were the features of the day. The post only placed on his tomb the G. A. R. flag and the simple bouquet that was placed on the grave of every other soldier. Others, however, paid special tribute and it is estimated that nearly a carload of flowers came here for the president's tomb.

For the most part Mrs. McKinley gave personal attention to these. The greater part of the flowers were carried into the vault and deposited on the casket, which was almost buried in the fragrant shroud. Two large crates of flowers came from the White House. One was addressed to Mrs. McKinley for the president's tomb and the other to the G. A. R. post to which he belonged to be used on the graves of his comrades. Tributes came from Pittsburgh, Chicago, Washington and many other cities.

A Healthy and Sound Body Will Enable Us to Battle Against the Wrongs and Injuries of Our Enemies.

Paine's Celery Compound

Banishes Disease, Establishes Health, and Gives Us Physical Strength to Maintain Our Place in Life's Conflict.

Many of us find life hard and full of pain. While we cannot well avoid the sufferings that result from wrongs and injuries, we can keep ourselves from the pains and ravages of bodily ailments and diseases and maintain that full measure of health that will enable us to meet the wrongs that assail us from day to day.

If you are run down, fretful, despondent, irritable, sleepless, be assured you are becoming physically impaired and weakened. If the relaxed and sluggish action of the excretory organs has loaded the blood and body with poison, producing headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney and liver troubles, then disease is encircling you in its chains.

Prompt use of Paine's Celery Compound will save the weakened parts of the body from yielding to disease. The great medicine saves weak and enfeebled nerves from prostration and removes every feeling of exhaustion and despondency. It cures and saves those who are bound by disease and suffering and gives them a new lease of life.

Ex-Alderman Fred G. Brenner of Troy, N. Y., a popular and esteemed citizen who thanks Paine's Celery Compound for his present rugged good health, writes for the benefit of weak, nervous and dyspeptic sufferers; he says:

"For several years I suffered from nervous troubles; I could not sleep well; nerves seemed to be weak; I had dyspepsia, and was all run down. My appetite began to fail me and I was discouraged. A friend of mine recommended me to take Paine's Celery Compound. I took two bottles and began to feel better and by the time I had taken four bottles I was a well man. I have to thank Paine's Celery Compound for my rugged good health today."

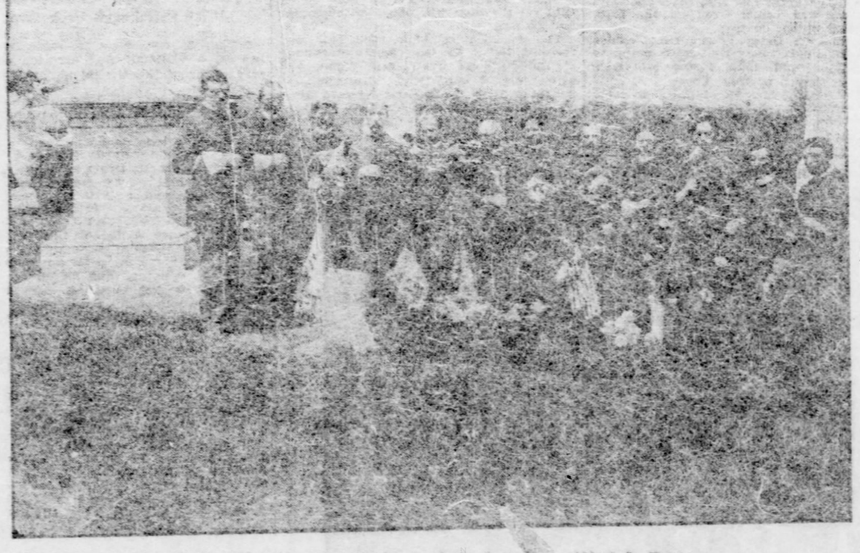
BATTERY B HONORED ITS DEAD WITH SIMPLE CEREMONIES



Detail of Battery B at the Grave of the Late Capt. Alfred L. Hunt.

The sad, sweet notes of "taps" from Battery B's bugle—the same bugle that awakened the echoes of Porto Rican mountains in 1898—five times yesterday floated in mournful measures through the Allegheny and the St. Mary's cemeteries while Memorial Day detail strewed flowers upon the graves of the dead of two wars. The ceremonies differed from the exercises held by the G. A. R. Early in the forenoon a squad under command of Lieut. Stewart arrived at the cemetery laden with banners and flowers and decorated the graves of Capt. Alfred L. Hunt and Comrades Rogers, Loomis, Duncan and Starke.

The services were impressive. O the grave of their beloved captain who led the battery to Porto Rico, a beautiful wreath of lilies was placed and while the soldiers stood with bowed heads the buglers sounded the soldier's call to rest. A great crowd gathered and hundreds were much affected by the solemn sweetness of the clear notes.

The ceremony lasted but a few minutes, and its very simplicity added to its impressiveness. Capt. Hunt's grave is situated in one of the most beautiful portions of the burial ground on the plateau near the Penn avenue gate, and was marked by bright flags that flaunted above a pillow of flowers.

At the tombs of the other members of the battery's dead the same service was held and the detail spent several hours in the two cemeteries.

The members of the Hampton Battery Veterans' association assembled at the Hampton battery monument in East park, Allegheny, at 9 o'clock. The veterans were joined by Capt. A. L. Hunt camp, Service Men of the Spanish War. The services were opened with prayer and the rendering of several patriotic airs, after which Prof. E. H. Holbrook, principal of the South Side High school, delivered the oration of the day.

PUMP RUNNERS ENTER PROTEST AGAINST STRIKE

OTHERS READY TO QUIT

Hickory Ridge and Centralia Men Decide by Big Majority to Obey the Order—Operators Still Adding to Force of Deputies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 30.—The committee representing many of the engineers of the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys were at President Mitchell's headquarters in this city today. They are bearers of a message from the engineers employed at many collieries of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, the Delaware & Hudson, the Erie and other companies, to the executive offices of the United Mine Workers, in which they request that the strike order issued by the executive committee last week to all the engineers, firemen and pumpmen be rescinded. The committee says the men they represent are opposed to going out on strike. District Presidents Nicholls, Fahy and Duffy were at the headquarters, but they declined to receive the committee or take any action until the arrival of President Mitchell, who will arrive tomorrow.

An agent for a West Virginia coal company, who has been in the city the past week hiring men to go south, was assaulted by striking miners and their sympathizers at a Slavish settlement in the northern part of this city today. The party making the assault said the agent was trying to get the anthracite miners to go to West Virginia to take the places of strikers there. Cooler heads in the crowd saved him from probably fatal injuries.

HAZLETON, PA., May 30.—All the coal companies here are commissioning special officers to guard their property. Fifty-five special policemen were sworn in by G. B. Markle & Co. today. Coxe Brothers have deputized their office clerks and trusted men to do guard duty.

SHAMOKIN, PA., May 30.—At a meeting of colliery firemen, engineers and pumpmen between Hickory Ridge and Centralia last night it was decided by a vote of 122 to 4 to go on strike next Monday unless the operators grant an eight-hour work day at the present scale of wages.

One hundred deputies were sworn in here today by justices of the peace at the request of the coal companies.

SCRANTON, PA., May 30.—W. H. Taylor, president of the St. Clair Coal Company of St. Clair, Pa., wires here that the story that the St. Clair Coal Company has acceded to the demands of the engineers, firemen and pump runners is untrue.

A meeting of engineers, firemen and pumpmen was held at Donnelly's hall, this city. A motion to indorse the action of the executive board of the United Mine Workers in ordering out the engineers, firemen and pumpmen was carried 315 to 51. The operators claim the meeting was made up almost entirely of firemen.

RAMSEY COMES TO INSPECT MATTERS

PRESIDENT OF THE WABASH IN PITTSBURGH YESTERDAY.

Talks of Possibilities of the Ann Arbor Line and Its Car Ferries—Is Well Pleased Over Judge Marshall Brown's Decision.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash, E. B. Pryor, assistant to the president, and W. H. Blodgett, general counsel, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday and spent the day with the local engineering and legal officials of the road in consultation over plans for the new extension. President Ramsey said the visit possessed nothing more than routine interest.

Mr. Ramsey confirmed the report that the Ann Arbor road and ferries have been acquired by a syndicate friendly to the Wabash. "The main object in purchasing it arises out of the Pittsburgh extension," he said. The possibilities of the Ann Arbor, with its car-ferries, will be fully developed when the Pittsburgh line is completed. It reaches the great Michigan ore field, from which thousands of tons of ore will be sent to the Pittsburgh district over the Wabash every year.

"One of the principal advantages of this route lies in the fact that it is open all the year round. The car-ferries have not stopped for 12 years, except for an occasional storm or something of that kind. The lake does not freeze up."

In regard to plans for extending the line east from Pittsburgh Mr. Ramsey would not speak, saying that nothing could be said of that for the present.

He is greatly pleased with the decision of Judge Marshall Brown, which reaffirms the former decision that the Wabash can cross streets without an ordinance of councils giving the permission, with the incidental opinion that the construction of 1874 nullifies the old act excluding homesteads from the right of eminent domain granted to railroads.

MR. KNOX'S CONDITION.

Surgeon General Rixey of the navy, who is in attendance, says that while the danger point in his case has passed, the patient will require careful nursing for a week or so yet.

Deposits of the State Funds Tell a Story; Erie Train Off the Track at Sharon

STATE MONEYS COME IN HANDY

Suspicion That They Are Deposited Where They Will Help Elkin.

INCREASE AT UNIONTOWN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, May 30.—State Treasurer Harris has increased the state deposit held by the First National bank of Uniontown to $110,000. When Harris took hold of the treasury on May 1 this bank had a state deposit of $25,000. This money belongs to the general fund. The bank has also a deposit of $140,000 belonging to the sinking fund or a total of $250,000 of state moneys.

This increase in the state deposit held by this bank helps to confirm the suspicion that the state banks and trust companies are being forced by Harris to support Attorney General Elkin for governor. Its president is Josiah V. Thompson, who is counted upon by the Elkinites here to deliver the five Fayette county delegates to Elkin.

Harris' report shows a balance of $0,534 85 in the general fund at the close of today's business. This money is carried on deposit in 62 banks and trust companies in sums ranging from $2,385,000 to $10,000, the former amount being held by the Farmers and Mechanics National bank of Philadelphia. The school appropriation becomes due on Monday, but it is expected that Harris will withhold payment until September, so that it may not be necessary to withdraw the deposits from the Uniontown and other favorite state banks. The bulk of the state money is deposited in the banks of Pittsburgh and other Western Pennsylvania cities.

Organization of Postmasters.

The synod voted the annual appropriation of $1,200 for the maintenance of the school. The report of the committee on the report of the president occupied the afternoon session.

THREE INJURED IN ERIE WRECK

ENGINEER WAS NOT HURT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, PA., May 30.—Train No. 20, the Erie vestibuled Cleveland and New York special, was derailed a short distance beyond the Shenango river bridge here this afternoon. Three were injured, as follows: C. C. Johnson of Meadville, fireman, ankle sprained and one bone broken; Mrs. C. C. Johnson of Youngstown, badly injured in one side, one rib fractured; John Hederick of New York, back badly sprained.

About one dozen other passengers sustained minor injuries, being thrown from their seats. The train had just pulled away from the station and was running at 15 miles an hour, when the pony truck on the engine jumped a frog.

The engine, baggage and cafe cars and one Pullman left the track, bumping on the ties for 200 feet before the engineer could bring the train to a stop. Charles Spofford of Meadville, the veteran Erie engineer, remained in his cab and was uninjured. His fireman, C. C. Johnson, was thrown from the cab. The engine and cars did not overturn, which saved many from serious injury.

He is organizing every school district in Pennsylvania for the fall campaign and if his scheme is a success these district organizations will act independent of the regular county and city organizations.

Mr. Creasy gave out the following statement tonight for the evident purpose of trying to counteract the effect of his recent interviews at Pittsburgh:

"I have just returned from a trip through the western counties. I have met all the county chairmen, with one or two exceptions, and I find the party in nearly all the counties in that section better organized and more hopeful than for several years.

"I have been quoted as giving all kinds of interviews, but will say that the question of the formation of a state ticket was not discussed at these division meetings."

REFORM EFFORT WAS SQUELCHED BY ASSEMBLY

HONORED THE UNION DEAD

Eloquent Tributes to Heroes of Civil War—Baltimore Woman's Request for Reform of "The Ungodly Newspaper" Creates Amusement.

Yesterday's sessions of the general assembly of the United Presbyterian body assembled in the Eighth church, Allegheny, were, by far, the most active yet held, bringing out some of the foremost leaders of the faith in defense of some cherished principle. The greater bulk of routine matter has been disposed of, and from now on the assembly will resound with discussion of reforms and innovations that threaten to creep into the foundations of the faith.

The next general assembly meeting will be held in Tarkio, Mo., the home of the retired moderator, the Rev. Dr. J. A. Thompson. The invitation to Tarkio was extended by the Rev. Dr. R. B. McBride, one of the pastors in that city. It was unanimously accepted. The general committee on home missions will meet at College Springs, 25 miles from Tarkio.

At the morning session the assembly was aroused by an attempt of a committee on "methods of home missions" to reform and reorganize the general committee.

Storm Was Aroused.

The Rev. Dr. C. H. Strong, chairman of the committee, presented a report to the effect that the present system of forming the general committee by delegate representation from each presbytery be eliminated and the following method be substituted:

"There shall be a general committee of home mission, composed of one member of the home mission board, one member of the board of church extension and superintendents of the missions in the presbyteries." The reform also included a reorganization of the methods of conducting the committee meetings.

The Rev. Dr. E. Z. Thomas, a member of the committee, argued in favor of the reform move. He had scarcely done when the assembly rose almost as one man. Finally the floor was yielded to the Rev. Dr. John A. Wilson of Allegheny, who, in an impassioned speech, condemned both the report and its framers.

Probably no one in the assembly felt the blow so keenly as the Rev. Dr. W. Ried, Sr., primeval clerk of the assembly, and a member of the board for years.

"I have never, never heard of such business in all my years of church work," he remarked to a Gazette reporter yesterday. "What could any person mean by attempting to reform a body that has been the very soul of the church since its foundation? Well, the assembly thought otherwise, and I've never seen such an outburst of religious wrath before."

When the moderator put the report to the house it was voted down by a tremendous majority.

A petition in behalf of the Twentieth Century psalmody conference was referred to the nominating committee. During the forenoon the Rev. Dr. J. G. Miller, delegate from the Associate Reformed synod of the south, was invited to address the assembly which he did. The moderator announced the following committee for the delegate fund: The Revs. E. McGill, W. R. Fulton, J. A. Keener and Messrs. W. S. Heade and A. W. Leech.

To Reform Newspapers.

During the afternoon session a discussion was elicited by the reading of a petition from Mrs. G. M. Gerard, requesting the assembly to recognize a proposed curfew ordinance.

The Rev. Dr. J. A. Wilson opposed its being entered on the minutes, as it was purely a civic affair, and had nothing in common with the work of the assembly. However, several ministers thought otherwise and it was referred to the reform committee.

A petition that provoked amusement for some moments came from a woman in Baltimore, who has at her back the "Friends' Press association," which aims at reforming "the ungodly newspaper."

There was audible laughter from nearly every commissioner in the assembly, and, possibly out of respect for the reporters present, the petition was ignominiously "turned down."

In the afternoon special memorial services were held between the hours of 3 and 4 for the union dead, and rarely have the men who fought for the preservation of American principles been so eulogized.

At times the Eighth church shook with the plaudits of young and old, again tears and sobs marked some thrilling description of the fight of brother against brother. The speakers were the Rev. Drs. W. R. Melov of Chicago, the Hon. W. C. Hazel of Cambridge, O., and the Rev. Dr. W. C. Williamson of Kaokuk, Ia.

During the course of his address Dr. Meloy said:

This occasion calls us back to the old war days, when the round heads of Ohio steamed down the Muskingum river to meet the rebels in their strongholds. I remember the partings of our regiment from their wives and mothers, children and sweethearts, when that hellest of all earthly things, a soldier's farewell kiss, was given. I remember the grand old psalms round heads sang aboard those old boats, which brought tears to the eyes of those who heard us. God was with the round heads and with the whole union army, and that is why we gained the victory.

It is our coming time now. Soon the last old veteran will be laid to rest. God grant that not one of them will ever be forgotten while our grand old union survives.

All members of the assembly, who are old soldiers, were requested to stand up and the secretary counted 37 who saw service for their country in its darkest hour.

Church's Dead Honored.

In the evening special memorial services for the deceased ministers of the church were held. The death roll was read by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Witherspoon, as follows: D. S. McHenry, Andrew M. Black, D. D.; William C. Somers, David H. Pollock, James Knox Black, James T. Torrence, Alexander Smith, Alexander H. Calvert, D. D.; Howard W. McMichaels, J. M. Dick, R. W. French, George F. Brocker, John Y. Scouller, James Tuglea, J. Gillespie, Busta Nahhleh.

This is the largest death list in the history of the assembly. Of the 23 decedents, the youngest was 85 years old at the time of his death. The next in age was 90 years. There were 11 from 70 to 80 years and seven from 80 to 88 years. Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. James A. Wilson of Allegheny seminary and the Rev. James W. White of Arkansas City.

The ministerial commissioners to the general assembly will occupy the pulpits of various churches throughout the county tomorrow. The moderator, the Rev. Dr. J. C. Wilson, will preach in the morning in the Assembly church, Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, and in the evening the Rev. [illegible] Martin of Fall River, Mass. The Rev. Dr. John A. McKirahan of the First Ohio presbytery [illegible]

THE BATTLE ON CREED REVISION

United Presbyterian Assembly Will Devote Entire Morning to an Intellectual Struggle.

This morning's session of the general assembly will bring it face to face with some of the great questions that have been puzzling the minds of its greatest theologians for nearly a quarter of a century. By its own volition the assembly will give up the entire morning to the discussion of the "covenant membership committee" report, and all that it involves, viz.: The propriety of members belonging to secret societies, the reform of present methods of receiving members, and everything of that ilk.

As stated in The Gazette the general assembly has now before it two reform bills, the most radical of which, it is said, is the Lake presbytery's memorial.

The Lake presbytery has within its domains some of the brightest minds of the church, at the head of which stands the Rev. Dr. David Reed Miller, an editorial contributor to the best religious works.

Dr. Miller is quite reticent, but has signed his name to the Lake Presbytery memorial and is not averse to saying that he regards it as a necessity that the United Presbyterian body should open the door somewhat.

The covenant committee, on the other hand, throws open the door, but before allowing the candidate to enter, binds him or her, as the case may be, to the acceptance of certain principles.

The final report of the committee was submitted yesterday and it was intended to consider the entire question at once, but on account of the length of the memorial service the report was referred to the committee on bills and overtures with instructions to report early this morning, when these questions are to be disposed of.

The Lake Presbytery ministers are not saying much, but will come to the front this morning when the Allegheny delegation, headed by the Rev. J. T. McCrory, attempts to have its memorial thrown off the docket.

The Rev. John A. Henderson of Erie, the Rev. A. P. Hutchinson, the Rev. A. J. Collins and the Rev. David Ward will support the Lake Presbytery's proposition.

Behind the covenant committee's reform, however, is the entire faculty of the Allegheny seminary, which makes no secret of the fact that it will fight vigorously the Lake Presbytery's memorial.

MINISTERS OF VANDERGRIFT TO TAKE LONG TRIP

George G. McMurtry, Founder of the Town, Invites Them Abroad.

WILL VISIT HOLY LAND

Summer Vacations to Be Delightfully Spent as Guests of a Big Manufacturer Who Appreciates What Gospel Dispensers Do for a Town.

About a fortnight ago, when the executive officers of the United States Steel Corporation made their first great inspection of mills and furnaces, George G. McMurtry, president of the American Sheet Steel Company branch, who was practically responsible for the establishment of the industrial community of Vandergrift, offered to make the seven or eight ministers of the gospel in that locality, the men who minister to the spiritual needs of his people, his guests on a trip abroad this summer.

The voyage is proposed to take in all the usual points of the tourist in Europe, together with a visit to the Holy Land. The ministers are to start in June and it is understood that Mr. McMurtry will arrange to go along.

While Mr. McMurtry is a believer in the Christian religion he is not affiliated as an active member with any of the churches the pastors of which are to be his guests. He is simply paying tribute to the men who serve in a spiritual way the people of his community. The rather singular favor to his old constituency was paid by Mr. McMurtry in a way that made it apparent he was anxious to avoid publicity. The ministers of the several congregations were to announce to their congregations at the 11th hour that their summer vacation was to be a trip to the Holy Land.

Mr. McMurtry, prior to the formation of the American Sheet Steel Company, was the head of the Apollo Iron and Steel Company. His concern, with its fine modern works, now in charge of Eugene W. Pargny, the Kiskiminetas district manager of the Sheet Steel Company, was the last, besides the W. Dewees Wood works at McKeesport to be absorbed by the sheet consolidation, and then it was determined that Mr. McMurtry was to be the head of the company. So important have been his relations with the sheet company that the steel corporation in subsequent formation retained him, while several other executives of constituent concerns were released for men calling for less remuneration.

Mr. McMurtry has lived in New York most of the time since the formation of the American Sheet Steel Company. His home is at No. 812 Fifth avenue in the metropolis.

QUICK ACTION BY POLICE.

Newspaper Thief in the East End District Landed in Jail in Short Order.

For stealing newspapers, Ralph Buzzi, an Italian, living in Bloomfield, was arrested by Policeman John Herdiman and Frederick Wittman. The capture was a good piece of work, for it was only at 3 p. m. on Thursday that Superintendent of Police John A. McAleese was notified that newspaper thieves were at work, and before 7 a. m. yesterday Buzzi was caught running off with two newspapers picked up off a porch.

As soon as Superintendent McAleese was told that a newspaper thief was at work in the Oakland and East End district, he notified Inspectors Henry Whitehouse and Robert S. Gray. About 6 a. m. yesterday Herdiman and Wittman saw a man go into the carriage drive at the house of Henry Brown at Forbes and Morewood avenues. Both officers followed the man up the drive. They saw him pick up two newspapers on the porch and then started after him. The man ran, but was soon caught and taken to No. 4 police station.

Inspector Whitehouse made an information against him for larceny and he was held in $500 bail for court. As he could not find bail he was taken to jail.

Many citizens have been annoyed of late by newspaper thieves. The financial loss is not so great, but the annoyance is extreme to the man who prepares to read his morning paper and finds that it is gone. Six newspaper thieves have been captured recently, so that complaints of the petty thefts are not so frequent as formerly. The promptitude with which the bureau of police acted will, it is thought, do much to discourage the thieves.

CORONER'S L... FOR MAY IS HEAVY

SEVERAL VIOLENT DEATHS WERE ADDED TO IT YESTERDAY.

Justice Williams of Etna Killed in a Runaway—Three Deaths Follow Accidents on Rail—Over 200 Violent Deaths Reported to Coroner's Office for May.

Justice of the Peace Joseph C. Williams of Etna was thrown from a wagon yesterday morning and died three hours later at the West Penn hospital. Mr. Williams was well known to visitors to the court house, where he was employed as a clerk in the county commissioners' office.

A huckster stopped his wagon in front of Mr. Williams' office in Etna at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning and Mr. Williams, laughingly saying he thought he would take a ride, jumped into the wagon and drove off. He went up Catharine street and turned into Kittanning street. The latter street is steep and the horse, becoming frightened, dashed down the hill. Presently the horse swerved, the wagon wheel passed over an obstruction and Mr. Williams was thrown into the street and his skull was fractured by his head coming in contact with a plank.

Thomas Herron, a brakeman, employed in the yards of Jones & Laughlins, limited, was badly crushed between two cars Tuesday morning. He died yesterday at the South Side hospital. He lived at No. 1008 Frederick street.

Joseph Harper died yesterday at the West Penn hospital. He was run down by an Allegheny Valley railroad train while crossing Thirty-fifth street, and both legs were cut off. He lived at No. 159 Penfield street, and worked in the Thirty-third street Carnegie mills.

Henry Miller, 51 years of age of No. 1415 Fayette street, Allegheny, died at St. Francis hospital yesterday of injuries received at Penn and Center avenues on Thursday afternoon when his wagon was struck by a car. His skull was fractured and he was otherwise injured.

Charles Watts, a colored preacher, 80 years of age, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home, No. 36 Upton street. When he arose he was in apparent good health, and after breakfast took a walk about the yard. An hour later he became ill and told his daughter he thought he was going to die, as his time had come. He refused to let her call a doctor, laid down on a couch and in a few minutes was dead.

Edward Griffin, 40 years old, of No. 2123 Arch street, died suddenly at his home yesterday morning. It was reported to the coroner that he had been drinking.

Charles Herzog, a well-known citizen of Allegheny, living at No. 221 Voegtly street, died suddenly last evening. He had just eaten dinner with his family, and after the meal sat at the table a while, talking. He rose from his seat to go out to the front door and fell to the floor dead. He was a widower, aged 60 years.

The death of William Ayer, aged 28 years, of Pricedale, at the West Penn hospital last night, may develop into a case of murder. Ayer was admitted into the hospital on May 19 from the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad station, he having been brought from Believernon. The hospital authorities were informed that eight weeks before he had been struck on the head with a stone. Ayer had been out of his head since the accident, and of course could not tell how he was hurt. Several persons called to see him, but none could tell how he was hurt.

Coroner J. M. McGeary's report for May already shows 204 violent deaths reported during the month and 171 inquests held.

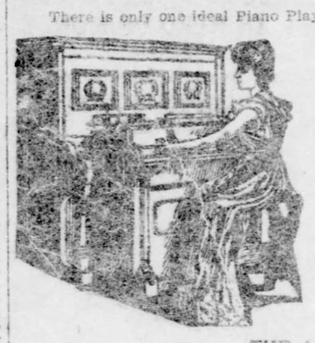
ANGELUS PIANO PLAYER

There is only one ideal Piano Player—and that is the "Angelus." It is in a class by itself—other players play the piano in a mechanical way, and do very nicely, too—but they lack the touch, tone, "human" quality—so to speak. The Angelus plays with perfection of expression—all the possible shades of human skill, with infinitely greater variety—for no human hand can do what a novice can accomplish on the



ANGELUS

No more silent pianos in homes where music once delighted family and friends.

What if children have gone, and taken with them their art—or possibly where thousands of dollars have been spent on children who unfortunately have little or no talent for music, supplies every need, satisfies every desire for music and creates a musical atmosphere such as no human skill could supply without the Angelus.

THE ANGELUS

Any child can play the Angelus—any elderly person can play it with 15 minutes' instruction. The Angelus plays any piano and with it YOU can play the most difficult composition better than the most masterful musician could play with his hands.

Hear what some great musicians say of

THE ANGELUS

MADAME SEMBRICH, the great lyric singer, who recently delighted Pittsburgh opera goers, says: Dear Sirs—Before sailing I wish to tell you how much I have enjoyed playing on your "Angelus." It is a most wonderful invention and, thanks to you, anyone will learn to play the piano perfectly in one hour.

Will you kindly ship an "Angelus" to my house in Dresden same as I had here at the Savoy? Yours truly, (Signed) MARCELLA SEMBRICH.

EUGENE D'ALBERT, the celebrated pianist, says: Gentlemen—I am really not a lover of automatic musical instruments, but in spite of this I must admit that the execution of the Angelus Orchestral amazed me.

This instrument manifests the greatest progress made in this direction, and surprising effects can be obtained in regard to tempo, expression and touch, as well as with the reed tones in connection with the piano.

(Signed) EUGENE D'ALBERT.

WM. C. CARL, the leading concert organist in this country, says: Capable as it is of performing the classics, I consider it a means of education. It practically places an orchestra in the home circle and will prove a delight to the musician as well as to the amateur. WILLIAM C. CARL.

We could produce hundreds of such enthusiastic testimonials from people of the highest musical standing and ability, as well as hundreds of the most cultured musical peoples of these cities who own and use the Angelus, and as some have expressed it, would not take $5,000 for their Angelus if they could not get another. Come—and welcome—hear, see and try for yourself the "Angelus" at

As Beautiful as Venus and Fair as Diana

How Mme. De Maintenon, the Most Beautiful Woman in History, Retained Her Beauty and Youthful Appearance.

How Any Woman Can Attain Beauty and Youthful Looks

Mme. DeMaintenon, said to be the most beautiful woman that ever lived, and the favorite of the luxurious court of Louis XIV., when seventy years of age, as history records, looked scarcely thirty. Her complexion was a marvel, and the envy of all the most noted beauties for which the court of Louis Le Grande was famous. Her youth and beauty, it was asserted, were ascribed to a secret lotion of Paracelsus, that kept her complexion in its youthful vigor and radiant glow, warding off the wrinkles and keeping away the lines and removing the blemishes that are the arch enemies of beauty and youthful looks.

This secret, for which Mme. De Maintenon paid a fabulous sum, can to-day be obtained by every lady at a very moderate cost.

After a diligent research into the laws of nature and a careful study in the realm of chemistry, Mme. Ruppert, the most noted Complexion Specialist of the present day, has discovered a formula that not only equals the secret formula of Paracelsus, but in many respects far surpasses it.

MADAME A. RUPPERT'S FACE BLEACH does all that the secret formula of Paracelsus did. It keeps the complexion youthful, retarding wrinkles and lines, removing the discolorations and blemishes, giving that delicate pink and white glow so natural to youth, making the skin smooth, clear and a marvel of beauty. Freckles, pimples, moth, blackheads, sallowness and oiliness of the skin rapidly disappears with its use, and there is scarcely a defect to which the complexion is heir which will not readily yield to its miraculous curative and youth-restoring qualities.

IT CANNOT FAIL to produce these grand results, and to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate complexion, as its action harmonizes perfectly with the laws of nature and hygiene, the two factors which must be closely adhered to and followed, to improve permanently one's personal appearance.

FACE BLEACH has a twofold action on the skin: 1st, a magnetical action, which attracts and draws to the surface the impurities and discolorations which collect below the outer skin, similar to the attracting property of the magnet for iron; 2d, as a chemical action in the form of a very fine and (ruff) a slight surface of the outer diseased and dead cuticle, leaving the skin—beautiful and youthful looking by nature—clear, smooth and perfect.

THIS IS THE ONLY METHOD by which the complexion can be safely and positively rejuvenated.

A positive guarantee is given if Face Bleach is used according to the new special direction, which are furnished with each order, that it will remove every discoloration and impurity from your complexion.

PARSONS WING OF THE K. OF L. WILL APPEAL

Have Secured a Bond in $10,000 to Cover Old and New Court Costs.

FACTION IS ALMOST A UNIT

The Pittsburgh Suit of the Window Glass Workers Is Likely to Be Postponed, Pending a Decision at Washington, D. C.

John Fernau, master workman of the Pittsburgh district organization of the old Knights of Labor, arrived home yesterday from the New York conference, and announced that the recent decision of the supreme court of the District of Columbia is to be appealed and that a bond in the sum of $10,000 has been arranged for to cover cost of former trials and other costs. The convention represented about 70,000 of the old members of the Knights of Labor.

Local assemblies of the Knights of Labor, numbering 140, were represented. Master Workman Fernau, I. N. Ross, H. S. Howell, S. A. Sneathen and John A. Conner, representing District assembly No. 3, and John L. Denny, Joseph Armstrong, George Ambos, William Cready and George Pembleton of the new organization of Window Glass Workers local assembly No. 300, were the delegates from Pittsburgh, representing the Parsons wing of the Knights of Labor.

Sentiment Was Strong for an Appeal.

After effecting its organization the convention took up the question as to whether it would appeal the recent decision in Washington or form a new organization. It developed that with the exception of three delegates, all were in favor of appealing. It was shown that of the original decrees of the court at Washington the only things remaining are that former Master Workman John N. Parsons and his associates are restrained from acting as or using the name of the Knights of Labor, or from issuing a journal in that name.

Justice Cugner subsequently issued a supersedeas decree which delays the payment of costs in the case and eleminates the restraining order against the Parsons faction using the ritual and symbols of the order. The American Surety Company of New York supplied a bond in the sum of $10,000. This is to cover the existing court costs of over $3,500 and costs of future litigation. It is said that it will be shown in the appeal that the judge who rendered the original decision died six days later from paresis.

Parsons' Work Indorsed.

The committee on state of the order made a report of the work done while Parsons and his associates have been restrained by the court. The report was indorsed and the committee continued with John L. Denny of Pittsburgh, chairman, and F. Frank O'Meara, secretary-treasurer. One of the New York delegates, Michael Fitzgerald, favored the dropping of the Knights of Labor contest and the formation of a new organization. Another New York delegate, Michael Sullivan, favored affiliation with the Socialist Trade and Labor alliance.

Edwin Forest of Washington, D. C., attorney for the Parsons wing, has been instructed to take an appeal. For this he has till June 2, and the court of appeals of Washington, D. C., will reconvene the second Tuesday in October, when this case will be the first on the docket. It is expected that the case of Simon Burns, president of the old organization of the Window Glass Workers, against the new organization, to restrain it from using the name and to deliver the funds will not be finally heard till after the Washington case has been handled by the court of appeals.

Pittsburgh Case Postponed.

The Pittsburgh case has been postponed indefinitely. This was at the request of the attorney of the Burns faction.

Master Workman Fernau said yesterday that there scarcely remains a question as to the holding of the court. It having been stated by Judge Shaffer that the money paid into the Denny organization by workers belongs to the men who paid it in.

Local assemblies Nos. 4907 of the Salespeople and 1374 of the Cigarmakers, met last night and approved the action of the New York convention.

Thirty thousand troops took part for the edification of the shah, who divided with Emperor William the attentions of the crowd.

TRIED TO GET IN THEATERS BY MAKING MARKS LIKE HARRY SHWAB.

This is a story about a forger who has picked a chirography as unlike that of the ordinary commercial college graduate or any other common business hand as day is to night. Harry C. Shwab, well known in Fourth Estate circles here and now living in New York, is the victim. The culprit is said to be in Pittsburgh. Many a newspaper man and many a business man, chiefly those engaged in theatricals, know this Shwab hand. It goes diagonally across paper in great oblique jerks, each running to about a third of the page, regardless of its being a business letter sheet or a bank check, and in this last case the marks of the art preservative are obliterated as they fall in the path of this singular chirography. "Jack" McCullough of the Empire theater has advised Shwab that some one has been attempting, with no mean success, to reproduce the Shwab signature on complimentary tickets for the Bijou, Grand and other Pittsburgh theaters and Shwab and his friends wonder at it.

NEW KNIGHTS CREATED.

Order of the Garter Bestowed on Marlborough and Bedford by King Edward.

LONDON, May 30.—King Edward invested the duke of Marlborough and the duke of Bedford with the insignia of the Order of the Garter at Buckingham palace this afternoon. The ceremony was more imposing that any similar event for years, it being the king's intention to revive the old-time pomp connected with this order.

The birthday of King Edward was celebrated yesterday instead of on November 9, his natal day. There was a gorgeous military display, the troops being reviewed by the king.

Played Trick on Court.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., May 30.—Charles E. Crandall, postmaster at Wiseberg, Jackson county, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing over $100 from a registered letter and forging a check for $63. He was held for the grand jury and presented his bondsmen, who were accepted. Before they had signed the bond he escaped and they refused to sign. He is still at large.

Everywhere we are talked of as the Dentists who can pull teeth without pain—no bad after results. We also give Air or Gas. All under the personal care of Drs. Urling. TWELVE PAGES

Mr. Dalzell's Candidacy.

It is to be hoped that the report is untrue which credits the managers of the Citizens party movement with a desire or intention of refusing Congressman Dalzell a place on their ticket. The whole movement is based on the theory that our local affairs have been badly administered, and that a radical change is necessary in county as well as city offices. This reasoning cannot possibly apply to congressmen—especially to Mr. Dalzell, who has represented us honorably for eight terms, and ought to be allowed as many more without contest if he so desires. The Citizens movement will be supported by the people only so far as it leads to genuine reform and no farther. If it is allowed to degenerate into a mere traffic for place, by which one set of men will be thrown out and another set in, with no change in methods, it will meet with the repudiation it deserves. Mr. Dalzell will be re-elected whether the Citizens party indorses him or not. In fact, we believe the people would elect him even if both factions should refuse to nominate him. To do otherwise would be a sheer disregard of our own interests.

Roosevelt and Our Soldiers.

President Roosevelt in his address at the Arlington National cemetery yesterday coupled with a tribute to the dead and living soldiers of the civil war a tribute to and defense of their sons and younger brothers in arms who are upholding the cause of freedom in the Philippines. Those who slander and traduce the army now he finds to be the natural heirs of the men who called Grant "a butcher," his soldiers and all who wore the blue "Lincoln's hirelings;" who accused Lincoln of a "spirit of barbarous ferocity," and charged the soldiers of the union with "perpetrating atrocities which would be disgraceful to savages." And yet while they attack the soldiers in the Philippines for barbarities that are the exception and not the rule, they overlook within their own sphere of influence (it is pointed out by the president, who thus exposes their insincerity) lynchings "carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity." This is a severe arraignment of the critics of the army, but not unjust, nor does the president go beyond the mark when he declares that "the men who fail to condemn these lynchings and yet clamor about what has been done in the Philippines are indeed guilty of neglecting the beam in their own eye while taunting their brother about the mote in his."

Such barbarities as have been reported from the Philippines, committed under great provocation, have been isolated instances, and, while they are condemned and will be punished and similar acts prevented, "for every act of cruelty by our men there have been innumerable acts of forbearance, magnanimity and generous kindness." The isolated instances of cruelty the president declares, and rightly, afford "far less justification for a general condemnation of our army than these lynchings afford for the condemnation of the communities in which they have taken place." But entire communities are not to be condemned for the unlawful deeds of those who reside in them, for in every community, while "there are people who commit acts of well-nigh inconceivable horror and baseness," there are also "the far more numerous citizens of upright and honest life" to whom must be credited "countless deeds of wisdom and justice." The same is no less true of our army in the Philippines, and those who give themselves over to condemnation of it are such as purposely "fix their eyes on individual wrong so keenly that they at last become blind to the great work of peace and freedom that has already been accomplished."

The soldiers in the Philippines are fighting for peace and freedom. Their victories instead of promoting and extending cruelties have been an effective means of putting a stop to them. This is the calm, deliberate judgment of the president, who says:

> Wherever these victories have been complete—and such is now the case throughout the greater part of the islands—all cruelties have ceased, and the native is secure in his life, his liberty and his pursuit of happiness.
> Our armies do more than bring peace, do more than bring order. They bring freedom.

There are independent states in Asia and Africa "in none of which is the slightest vestige of freedom for the individual man," in which cruelties and barbarities are the rule. Such was the condition of the Philippines where the insurrection prevailed, and to such independence would the critics of the army consign the islands. Wherever the insurrection has been put down there is freedom and personal liberty. It is to this end that our soldiers sacrifice themselves. It is for this that Gen. Luke Wright of Tennessee, acting governor of the Philippines, "who gallantly wore the gray in our civil war," is now "working hand in hand with Adna Chaffee, who in the civil war, gallantly wore the blue." With these two and with the soldiers from the north and the soldiers from the south who are working shoulder to shoulder to establish the freedom of the Filipinos, it is not a party question, and as President Roosevelt says, "This should be no more a party question than the war for the union should have been a party question." It is sad should be an American question and Americans should give hearty support to Americans who are doing America's work far from home instead of slandering them. What the president has said he has said well. He stands by the soldier without approving individual wrongdoing. The American people in this, as in most other things, stand by the president.

The Business Situation.

Two widely separated points of interest have received the attention of the business world this week. One of these was South Africa, and the other the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania. In the latter, mining has now been suspended for three weeks, and the coming week will determine whether the army of idle workmen will be increased, or whether a settlement will be reached that will permit of a resumption of work. It is estimated that the loss in wages and profits thus far has approximated $5,000,000. If the strike is prolonged, the circle of its influence will embrace a larger number of interests and result in steadily increasing loss. The business world therefore eagerly watched for signs of a settlement, and was encouraged by the advance in the price of coal stocks, the market being a very sensitive barometer.

No less interest was felt in the outcome of peace negotiations in South Africa. Here again it was the market that furnished the most encouragement of an early ending of the Boer war, the price of English consols advancing to the highest of the year. The first effect of the permanent cessation of hostilities will be most pronounced in financial circles because of the resumption of gold mining in the richest camp in the world. But commercial trade, particularly that of the United States, will also share in the benefits of peace. Our imports of merchandise from Africa had increased from $3,500,000 in 1894 to more than $11,000,000 in 1896, but last year declined to less than $9,000,000. Our exports, however, have steadily increased from less than $5,000,000 in 1894 to about $25,500,000 last year. During the period of this war our industrial affairs have undergone a revolution. Instead of comparatively small firms and companies of manufacturers, we have vast combinations in every important branch of trade, and the additional capital and facilities of these combinations will make them a stronger force in entering foreign markets. The plans undergoing completion for unifying our transportation facilities on land and sea will also increase the efficiency and importance of the United States as a provider of manufactured goods to foreign consumers. Interest in the peace negotiations, therefore, extends far beyond stock exchange limits.

The prevailing dullness in speculative markets is in strong contrast with the feverish excitement of a year ago, but it is nothing more than a normal reaction. Wall street discounts the future, and the heavy trading and advancing prices of last year were in the nature of discounting legitimate business conditions. That the favorable character of the latter was not overestimated is seen in current trade and traffic returns. Gross railroad earnings are averaging about 8 per cent over the highest reported for any corresponding season in previous years, and the production of iron and steel is at the maximum rate in our history. Crop conditions continue favorable, and with seasonable weather the country will raise the largest corn crop ever harvested. While the acreage of cotton is slightly below last year's total, the average condition is 10 points higher, and the latest estimates are that the wheat yield will be larger than indicated a month ago.

Popped Potatoes.

Popped corn has long been recognized as a palatable and nutritious confection. Now we are to have popped potatoes, popped rice and a large line of other starch foods treated in the same manner. The method of popping vegetables and cereals generally has been invented by a scientific gentleman connected with Columbia university, the result of many years of study and experiment. The importance of the discovery lies in the fact that the new popped goods are not to be confections, but delicious food.

It is said potatoes after being popped can be compressed into wafers and then converted into mashed potatoes at any time by the addition of a little milk, or the wafers may be eaten as a condensed food. Popped rice melts on the tongue, flavored to suit the taste. The vogue of the new articles of diet will depend, we may be sure, more upon their palatableness than upon their economy or nutritious qualities, but the idea may become as important a factor in export trade as that other Yankee notion of encasing all kinds of food in tin.

When one pauses to think he may well marvel at all that has been done in this country in the way of devising new forms of food products. Besides the tinners who run the range of vegetables, fish, fowl and flesh, the millers have created a hundred forms of cereal breakfast food that appeal to the appetite and satisfy the demand of the animal economy for nutrition. Always there is something new. The fresh meat men have found ways to deliver their products to the uttermost corners of the earth. Now the popper man has appeared with a new process for preparation and preservation. It may be that French cooks lead the world in the variety of their edible concoctions from simple ingredients, but just as surely the American preparers have passed all precedents in creating materials ready to the hand of the cook who has not time to invent a new French stew. Their work is along the line of cooking made easy.

A Touching Incident.

President Palma's thoughtfulness in having the wreck of the Maine, in Havana harbor, decorated with flags and flowers will be gratefully noted by the American people. The incident refutes the opinion often heard that Cuba feels no gratitude to the heroes who fought for her cause, or for the great nation to which she owes her independence. A more graceful acknowledgment of what America means to independent Cuba could hardly have been conceived than this remembrance of the brave men who still lie in the bulk of the wrecked battleship. To be sure President Palma is much an American, but his people have approved his act. They are nearly all American at heart.

The Growth of a Cent.

The man who can remember his early childhood may recall a great truth that was instilled into his mind in a simple little verse that ran like this:

> Little drops of water,
> Little grains of sand,
> Make the mighty ocean
> And the pleasant land.

He probably sang it and perhaps he can recall the tune. Perhaps the street car men of Pittsburgh recalled the verse and the tune as they read in the car barns yesterday the announcement of an advance in wages that is in effect today.

When it is said that the conductors and motormen of the Pittsburgh Railways Company are given an advance of one cent per hour, beginning June 1, it doesn't seem much to brag about. But when it is noted that there are 3,000 of them in the employ of the company we begin to realize what it means. An advance of one cent an hour to each of these 3,000 is an additional expense to the company of 3,000 cents or $30 per hour, or $360 per day of twelve working hours, and for 365 days a year, for Sundays don't count with a traction line unless to increase business. One cent an hour begins to look important when multiplied by the number of men and the hours in a day.

On January 1 last a similar advance was given the men. The two advances combined add to the operating expenses of the traction company daily the sum of $720, and this will now be paid to the men for each day of the year. Like the little drop of water and the little grain of sand one cent is a small affair, but enough of them together make a large pile.

In connection with this advance in wages the Pittsburgh Railways Company is trying an experiment that will be worth watching. It is announced that it will pay next December for the time since June 1 an additional cent per hour to each employe against whom no accident resulting from his own carelessness is charged. This is a form of accident insurance that ought to work out good results for employer and employe.

Judge Brown's decision in favor of the Wabash railroad seems to impress some of our contemporaries as striking out in a new line and establishing a strictly new precedent, instead of which it is in entire accord with the well-established principle that private rights must in all cases yield to public necessity.

The suggestion that England match the kaiser's proposed gift to the United States of a statue of Frederick the Great with one of George III. isn't so bad after all. For who did more to bring about American independence?

Now that the New York newspapers have started out to find survivors of the Martinique catastrophe the one individual who did escape will have to issue an injunction or be robbed of his honors.

Representatives who voted to abolish the sale of intoxicants in the capitol building now declare the whole thing to be a joke. This, we suppose, is an example of dry humor.

Some of those society dramas that made New York hits last season should be packed in camphor balls during the warm weather.

The speech-making yesterday was pervaded by a keen sense of the debt we owe the living soldier as well as the dead one.

It is to be hoped that June will have her rare days well done before she serves them.

Gov. Stone has struck the felt-slipper stage of his public and official career.

There isn't any doubt as to who the driver is in that Ohio band wagon.

No Use for New Heart.

From the Washington Post.

"Out in my district," said Representative Landis of Indiana yesterday, "there was a quaint old character who finally succumbed to illness and had to take to his bed. Much against his will, the village preacher came to see him, and, as usual, indulged in a prayer by the sick man's bedside.

"'And, O Lord,' prayed the minister, 'give unto our sick friend a new heart.'

"'Hold on there, parson,'" interrupted the patient. "'It isn't my heart that's troubling me. I wish you'd ask the Lord to give me a new liver!'"

Austrian Iron Combine.

VIENNA, May 30.—The formation of an Austrian iron combine was completed today. It will only become operative when the Hungarian iron firms have formed themselves into a similar combination, to which end negotiations are now in progress.

Much More of a Holiday Than a Memorial Day

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, May 30.

The only sad suggestion in New York today outside of the cemeteries was the frequent flag at half-mast. The Stars and Stripes hung drooping over all public edifices, and on a great many private buildings, too, including many residences, and always half-way down the flagstaff. With this tribute to the memory of the heroes who fought for Old Glory in the sixties, the people of the metropolis were content. After that all was jollity. It is true, the military, naval and civic parade went through its program, and was reviewed by the military and other dignitaries, as has been arranged, and the handsome soldiers and sailors' monument in Riverside drive was unveiled with impressive ceremonies; but the main part of the population of this city deigned to have a holiday in its full sense, and they were invited to it by the sunshine and generally lovely weather conditions that prevailed. All the trolley cars and railroad trains running to Coney Island and kindred resorts were packed with excursionists all day, from early morn. It was a great day for the seashore, chilly as it was when one stood on the brink of the ocean; but the breeze from the sea was not penetrating—only inspiring—and it seemed as if everyone enjoyed it to the very utmost. Of course, a vast concourse waited in this city until the procession of old soldiers and their friends had passed, and several thousand spectators were at the unveiling of the monument at Riverside; but even these got out of town in the afternoon. It is only a little more than an hour's ride to Coney Island, and a great many persons went down there and back again on the same car or "L" train. The theaters this afternoon were packed. It was great theater weather, as one exultant manager declared while he "counted up" in his private office, and the attractions were patronized without favoritism. If there was absolutely no room in one theater, why, seats might be obtained in another. The main thing was to get in somewhere. It has been a memorial day which New Yorkers will always remember with peculiar satisfaction.

Tammany Can't Understand It.

An unusual fact in connection with the soldiers' and sailors' monument in Riverside drive is that it has cost less than the amount appropriated for it. The legislature in 1893 authorized a bond issue of $200,000 for the work, but it has been erected according to the approved design of the sculptor for considerably less than that sum, and a balance will be returned to the city treasurer. Tammany is paralyzed at the unwonted spectacle.

The Tenderloin Forced to Keep Dark.

That part of Manhattan known as the Tenderloin is so well behaved nowadays that the departure of the police captain of the precinct for Europe for six weeks does not create the exultant feeling which would have prevailed in former days. Capt. Sheehan leaves Sergt. Dillon in charge, and the crooks and disorderly characters that people the Tenderloin know that the sergeant will not grant them any more latitude than they have had under Sheehan, known as one of the "stiffest" police captains in New York. Before the reform element got into power in this city the thieves, "cracs" gamblers and rascals generally, collectively, and each for himself or herself, would have felt it judicious to see the sergeant as soon as possible in the hope of getting some assurance of lenient government. Perhaps the sergeant was not to be approached, and the toughs had to make the best of things without hope of the police winking at their misdeeds. However this may have been, it is certain that the sergeant is not even approached. The under-world of the Tenderloin exists only under sufferance now, and whether the captain or sergeant happens to be in charge of the precinct, the word is to "keep dark when you ain't walking on the straight line."

Hymn-Book Pilferers Among Teachers.

Over in Brooklyn today the annual convention of Sunday school teachers was in session. It was held in the East Avenue church, and was addressed by John J. Crall, a well-known Brooklynite, among other speakers. Mr. Crall spoke for a purpose aside from merely approving Sunday school work. He remarked that at the last annual convention someone had stolen 80 hymn-books. He added that if anyone wanted hymn-books they could have them at the rate of 4 cents apiece. He asked, however, that those persons carrying off the books would leave 4 cents each on their seats to pay for them. Having discharged himself of the unpleasant duty of rebuking hymn-book pilferers, Mr. Crall sat down, and the regular business of the convention was resumed.

The Saddest Memorial Day Accident.

Among the score or so of accidents that mark every holiday in a great city there was none more sad than the killing of a little girl by a trolley car. She and her mother were out for the day for a holiday and hailed a trolley car. They were on the wrong side, and the motorman signaled to them to cross to the other side. They passed in front of the car, the motorman started the vehicle, and one of the wheels went over the child's chest. There was nearly a lynching as well as a slain child, for the crowd would have killed the motorman but for the prompt action of the police. As it was, the people lifted the ten-ton car bodily and threw it from the track.

Only a Stable, but Palatial.

Col. John Jacob Astor has awarded a contract for the building of a coaching stable at Ferncliff, his country estate, on the Hudson. It will cost $100,000. The main part of the edifice will be 95x213 feet, with a wing for the tennis court which will be 75x65 feet. More than 1,000,000 bricks will be used in the building, to say nothing of a vast quantity of stone in the foundations. There will be a riding and squash court in addition to space for horses and coaches.

Hard Task to Hoist a Big Flag.

It was not easy to raise a gigantic flag on the edge of the harbor today, but it was accomplished at last, in spite of the wind. Just as the sunrise gun from Fort William, on Governors island, boomed out the customary salute to the colors, the big 50-foot flag was run up on the Battery park mast and then brought back to half-mast. Park Attendants James Stackpole and Thomas Keenan, both veterans of the civil war, had charge of the ceremony. They found it no small task to hoist the big spread of bunting to the truck of the tall mast in the teeth of the stiff southerly wind which swept up from the bay. A number of loungers around the park helped in the work. At sunset the flag came down, but it was easy enough to lower it, although the gale still howled and sent the bunting flapping spitefully about the pole.

Hymen Robs the Stage of a Star.

The topic for the gossips uptown today was the unexpected marriage of Mrs. Jack Bloodgood. Her husband is William Laimbeer, a Wall street man, and the ceremony took place at St. George's Episcopal church in the presence of a very few intimate friends. The bride has been prominent in New York as a successful actress, having taken to the stage while her late husband, Mr. Bloodgood, lay on the sick bed from which he never arose. The circumstances of the Bloodgoods were straitened and the wife pluckily became an actress so that she could earn enough money to provide her sick husband with necessaries and the best obtainable medical attendance. She was to have starred next season under the management of Charles Frohman in a new comedy written for her by Clyde Fitch, entitled "The Grass Widow." As her husband is a wealthy man, it is probable that the stage will lose the late "Mrs. Jack" under present arrangements.

Coney Under Inspection.

It is said that Police Commissioner Partridge runs down to Coney Island nearly every day. Since the grand jury the other day gave Coney Island such a dreadful character, in spite of the commissioner having reported that he found nothing there not commendable, the head of the police force has been slipping down to the island alone so that he may witness conditions as they actually exist. At least, this is the report. Mr. Partridge will not say anything about it. He is not a very talkative man, anyhow, although he is credited with being able to see as far into a millstone as the next man.

A Press Agent's Yarn.

As Actor Davies puts it, Blanche Walsh's scenery was stored in a warehouse uptown early on Monday morning after completing a tour which embraced 120 towns and covered 30,000 miles. Tuesday morning the warehouse was partially burned down. Seven or eight theatrical outfits went up in smoke, but Miss Walsh's property passed through the fire unscathed. Long defiance in one-night stands had petrified the scenery; it simply couldn't burn.

Pilgrimage of the Shriners.

New York Shriners are about to turn their faces toward the setting sun. A great train loaded down with nobles will leave Jersey City tomorrow morning over the Baltimore & Ohio en route to the Pacific coast. The train will pick up some Pittsburgh Shriners on the way. The train is called the "Imperial special," and the passengers travel to the Golden Gate to attend the twenty-eighth annual session of the imperial council of the order. The two dining cars go along to provide cheer for the Shriners. The itinerary provides for a thorough exploration of the points of interest along the route. Among the passengers are the imperial council members of all states from Maine to Florida east of the Ohio line.

Jewish Patriotism.

In delivering an address at the grave of H. J. Goldsmith, founder of the Independent Order of Free Sons of Israel, at Mount Hope cemetery today, Julius Harburger reminded his hearers that the Jewish race has ever been in the forefront of battle for any noble cause. The sentiment met with quick approval from his listeners. The orator paid a tribute to the worth of the Jewish soldiers in the wars for the preservation of this republic, which was as glowing an outburst as was heard anywhere in Greater New York this afternoon.

A Great Day for Horses.

Memorial day is always a big horse-racing day in this part of the country. Lovers of the "sport of kings" went out to Gravesend by the tens of thousands today and the racing was interesting enough to warrant the large attendance. The weather was so beautiful that the horses behaved very well, so that even those who bet on the wrong horses confessed that they had had "a run for their money." Race frequenters declare that a better day for their favorite amusement never was seen at Gravesend.

Funereal Quietude in Wall Street.

This was a quiet, not to say funereal, day downtown. The Wall street district was deserted by the usual crowds and for the first time since work on the building began those employed in the construction of the new Hanover National bank building, at Pine and Nassau streets, were able to work without being watched by a crowd. Stone cutters on the sidewalk were at work cutting blocks of granite weighing tons each, without even an idle messenger boy to look on. Many of the banks had their flags flying, all at half-mast. In some advantage was being taken of the holiday to make necessary repairs, but as a rule all the offices were closed. It is the place now like a city of the dead. There is no place in America where the contrast is greater between a holiday and an ordinary business day than the square mile or two which we call, in general terms, "Wall street."

PERSONALS

Gen. Charles Dick of Akron, O., chairman of the Republican state committee of Ohio and member of congress, passed through the city last night en route to Washington. "I am returning to Washington," he remarked, "after having attended the convention in my state. The convention nominated a strong ticket, prepared a good platform and we are now ready for the fray in November." Gen. Dick was asked if he thought that Senator Hanna would be a presidential candidate. "He has never said so," he replied, "and while no man would refuse the presidency if it was tendered to him, I do not think that Senator Hanna wants the office. Ohio will be found in the Republican column this fall, and will elect all of its state officers." Gen. Dick, who is also adjutant general of the national guard of Ohio, said that the guard would encamp this summer by brigades. The encampment would be held at Newark, and the first brigade would go into camp during the latter part of July. The second brigade would follow early in August. The dates for the two encampments, he said, had not yet been settled upon.

David Danielssee, an electrical engineer of Langsevnd Wermland, Sweden, is at the Griswold. "My business in America," he said, "is to study the system of electrical railroads. I expect to get employment with the Westinghouse Electrical Company at East Pittsburgh. Business is very bad in Sweden. American made goods stock the Swedish markets and American electrical machinery and supplies can be bought cheaper in Sweden than we can manufacture them. The business depression is causing large numbers of the Swedish people to emigrate to America. All the best electrical engineers of Sweden are now in the employ of the large electrical companies of Germany and America."

"I am going east on another gum shoe campaign," said Recorder Joseph O. Brown at Union station last night. He was sitting in the station talking to his nephew, Coroner Jesse Mcgeary, when approached by the reporter. The recorder was in excellent humor and laughed heartily. "I am going to Philadelphia and New York," he said, "but will be back in a few days." "Is your mission a political one?" he was asked, and the reply was as quoted above. As the recorder started for his train he said: "Keep my name before the public," quoting Benjamin F. Butler.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Capt. Robert B. Robison.

Capt. Robert B. Robison, one of the best known steamboat commanders of Pittsburgh, died yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock at his home in Hazelwood. Nine days ago the captain caught cold while working in his garden and this was followed by pneumonia, which was the direct cause of his death. For 31 years Capt. Robison was master of the towboat Tom Dodsworth and never missed a trip the steamer made down the Ohio river, a record that probably no other Ohio or Mississippi river steamboatman can boast of. The Dodsworth was known throughout the Ohio and Mississippi valleys as the Robison boat. The captain was in charge of the boat from the time it was built and was a part owner in the vessel. S. S. Crump & Co. being the other owners, until the interest of both were bought out by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company. He made his last trip down the Ohio in April and during the first three month of this year spent but few days at home. His steamer being kept very busy. Capt. Robison was 71 years old last Sunday. He was born in sight of Hazelwood, on the opposite side of the Monongahela river, and had resided in the Hazelwood district all his life. He began boating on the Juniata and steamboated on the local river for 50 years. He was one of several other pioneers, boating all during the time of the civil war. The most of his steamboat life, however, was spent on the Dodsworth.

Capt. Robison was married on May 12, 1853, to Miss Adeline McLaughlin of this city. Mrs. Robison died over six years ago. Five children and five grandchildren survive. His sons and daughters are Mrs. J. S. Kearcher of Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal and Iron Company are at the Hotel Lincoln. Capt. Alonzo Robison, Rolla L. Robison, Miss Emma L. Robison and Miss Minnie A. Robison. The two unmarried daughters reside at home.

Capt. Robison was prominent in local Masonic circles. He belonged to St. John's lodge of this city, to Mt. Moriah council and to Tancred commandery. He was a member also of the various Scottish Rite bodies and belonged to the Pittsburgh consistory.

A touching incident arose from his death occuring on Decoration Day. He was one of the oldest members in this section and had at his home greenhouses in which nearly every specimen of the local flora is to be seen. For many years it has been his custom to invite the children of Hazelwood to every Sunday there to gather flowers to decorate the graves of the soldier dead. Early yesterday morning a number of children, mindful of his custom, called for only to learn that the kind-hearted donor was no more.

The funeral services will be held at his home in Hazelwood, "Green Lawn," at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Interment services will be conducted by the Masonic order.

Few men in this city were more widely acquainted and none more generally esteemed. Possessed of a wonderful memory, he knew him thoroughly familiar with all the developments of the city from the time when it was only a large town. Although he was 71 years old, a friend, or friends, can be found in nearly all circles of business and professional life. Capt. Robison kept a diary the greater part of which he has left to his children, filled with interesting data concerning his daily movements and important happenings on the rivers. The various steamers in port have their flags displayed at half-mast, out of respect to his memory. The Dodsworth is at present lying at the Monongahela wharf.

Hon. Sylvester Pennoyer.

PORTLAND, ORE., May 30.—Sylvester Pennoyer, governor of Oregon from 1886 to 1894, died suddenly this afternoon at his home in this city from heart trouble. He had been in poor health for a year, though he was able to be on the street, and spent a great part of his time in his office in the Ladd building in this city. About 5 p. m. Mrs. Pennoyer saw the ex-governor lying on the floor in his library, with a pillow under his head. She spoke to him and, receiving no reply, placed her hand and tried to arouse him, but discovered that he was dead. Gov. Pennoyer was born in Tompkins county, N. Y., July 6, 1831. He was brought prominently before the country in 1891 by his refusal to meet President Harrison at the state line, when the president was on a visit to the Pacific coast. He was again much talked about in 1894, when he told President Cleveland to "attend to his own business."

Mrs. Ellen Walsh.

Mrs. Ellen Walsh, 76 years old, for the past 45 years a resident of the South Side, died early yesterday morning at her home, No. 958 Mano street, South Side. Democrats Fear Pennypacker.

From the Bellefonte Republican.

The Democratic newspapers of this county seem to be particularly exercised over Judge Pennypacker's candidacy for governor. Their pages are filled with references to him, and every effort is used to connect his name with that of Mr. Quay. Much is made of the distant relationship between them and of the fact that Judge Pennypacker came to the defense of our state in a written article in reply to one appearing in a New England magazine.

These newspapers are not to be blamed for the dust they kick up; it blinds none but those who place implicit confidence in what they say. They are fighting for their political life. They well know that, if Quay, the idol of the worst political machine which has ever been developed in America, is nominated by the Republican convention, the success of the Democracy in the fall is as sure as anything can be. On the other hand, they feel comfortably assured that, if Judge Pennypacker secures the nomination, he is exceedingly likely to receive the solid vote of the independents of the state.

If, by bespattering their columns with the filth flung at this man, whom all the factions of his own party unite in praising, they can induce the Republicans to vote against him at the primaries and so place in nomination a man whom they can easily beat at the polls, it would be good politics from their standpoint. But this action on their part will have the wrong effect. Every Republican knows that abuse from a Democratic organ is equivalent to praise in this community, since they abuse Samuel H. Pennypacker, he is the candidate whom they fear.

Each possible Democratic candidate, from the top of the ticket to the bottom, believes his chance in the coming election to be fourfold better with Elkin leading the ticket against him than if Pennypacker is nominated for governor. Ask them and see.

No Condonement for Barbarity.

These young comrades of yours have fought under terrible difficulties and have received terrible provocation from a very cruel and very treacherous enemy. Under the strain of these provocations I deeply deplore to say that some among them have so far forgotten themselves as to counsel and commit, in retaliation, acts of cruelty. The fact that for every guilty act committed by one of our troops a hundred acts of far greater cruelty have been committed by the hostile natives upon our troops, or upon the peaceable and law-abiding natives who are friendly to us, cannot be held to excuse any wrongdoer on our side. Determined and unswerving effort must be made, and is being made, to find out every instance of barbarity on the part of our troops, to punish those guilty of it, and to take, if possible, even stronger measures than have already been taken to minimize or prevent the occurrence of all such instances in the future.

It is only in the army of the Philippines that Americans sometimes do acts that cause the rest of America to regret? (Cries of oh, no, no!)

From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to the victims, and far more brutalizing to those guilty of it. The men who fail to condemn these lynchings, and yet clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the beam in their own eye while taunting their brother about the mote in his.

Understand me. These lynchings afford us no excuse for failure to stop cruelty in the Philippines. Every effort is being made, and will be made, to minimize the chances of cruelty occurring.

But keep in mind that these cruelties in the Philippines have been wholly exceptional, and have been shamelessly exaggerated. We deeply and bitterly regret that any such cruelties should have been committed, no matter how rarely, no matter under what provocation, by American troops. But they afford far less justification for a general condemnation of our army than these lynchings afford for the condemnation in which they have taken place. In each case it is well to condemn the deed, and it is well also to refrain from including both guilty and innocent in the same sweeping condemnation.

In every community there are people who commit acts of well-nigh inconceivable horror and baseness. If we fix our eyes only upon these individuals and upon their acts, and if we forget the far more numerous citizens of upright and honest life and blind ourselves to their countless deeds of wisdom and justice and philanthropy, it is easy enough to condemn the community. There is not a city in this land which we could not thus condemn if we fixed our eyes purely upon its police record and refused to look at what it had accomplished for decency and justice and charity. Yet this is exactly the attitude which has been taken by too many men with reference to our army in the Philippines, and it is an attitude both absurd and cruelly unjust.

THE GOLF EXPERTS.

Last Year's Winner Beaten and a New Record for the Course Made.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The semi-final round of the Metropolitan golf tournament at Tuxedo today resulted in the defeat of last year's winner and developed very fast play. Incidentally a new record, 72, for the course was established.

W. J. Travis, the national amateur champion, and Findley S. Douglas, winner of last year's Metropolitan tournament; Wirt L. Thompson of Baltus Rot, and F. A. Marcellus, the champion of the Yountakah Golf club, were paired when play started today. The latter two got away first, but at the eighth tee, allowed the Travis-Douglas match, with its large gallery, to pass. Travis started at a pace that seldom been equaled in this country—and playing with machine-like steadiness, finished the first nine holes in one under the par figure. The match was finished at the 15th hole, with Travis six up and five to play. At this point he was three under four, and his game had been a wonderful exhibition of accuracy and form. The by-holes were finished, but in playing the 16th Travis got into a brook, taking seven for the hole, and lost his chance of making under 72. As it was his card was 72, or one over par. Douglas frequently outdrove the champion and made some splendid approaches. His weakness, however, lay in putting, a phase of the game in which Travis today was phenomenally strong, running down several long puts of 25 or 30 feet.

On the outplay Travis won the first hole, but lost the next to Douglas, who scored a splendid 3. Travis won the next, halved the fourth, and won the fifth, sixth and seventh. He lost the eighth, but won the ninth, standing four up at the turn. He was on the tenth green in two and holed out a ten-yard put. This performance be repeated at the 11th green, eliciting much applause from a much interested gallery. The 12th hole was halved in five, making the score Dormie 6 in Travis' favor. The next hole, also halved, gave him the match.

FOURSOME AT BRIGHTON.

F. W. Jarvis and Miss Gillespie Win Trophy Cups With Score of 118.

The results of the Brighton Country club play on the old Allegheny Country club course, California avenue, were as follows:

J. W. Jarvis and Miss M. C. Gillespie, 118; S. D. Lindsay and Miss G. Orr, 125; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hadley, 147; Mr. and Mrs. Kinnear, 148; C. J. Donaldson and Miss K. Thompson, 151; Mr. Stoner and Miss Bertha Smith, 157; F. J. Gilmore and Miss Blanche Wacob, 168; A. H. Orr and Miss Vincent, 182; Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Bailey, 152.

MERRY LOT OF RIDERS FOLLOWED THE BAG

Last Run of the Season of Pittsburgh's Hunt Club Was a Very Successful Event.

The last run of the season of the Pittsburgh Hunt club occurred yesterday afternoon and was participated in by four ladies and about 20 gentlemen, who are devoted to following the hounds. The beautiful grounds of the club, just off the Beechwood boulevard, had many visitors during the afternoon and when the riding party was ready to start, about 5 o'clock, there was a large gallery on the boulevard and in the club grounds.

It was a drag hunt, with an anise seed bag, and F. M. Lowry was master of the hounds on his spirited horse, "Rapidan." Fully 24 hounds were in the pack and as the party started off it was a very pretty sight to see the men in their scarlet coats, white riding breeches and green caps, with the four ladies in black riding habits, closely following Mr. Lowrie, with "Jack" Caffery, the huntsman, in close pursuit to look out for any accidents, which fortunately did not occur.

The first jump was down the hill near the Beechwood boulevard, and from there the course led to the H. C. Frick estate on Gunn's hill, formerly the Hutchinson property, where the first check was scheduled. The master of the hunt then led the party up the hill parallel with the golf course and down to the Monongahela river, where the second check was made. The run then went up to the boulevard to the head of Hazelwood avenue, where the third check was made, and then to the club house, entering the grounds from the south.

R. G. McConnigle, president of the club, was to the fore from the start, closely followed by Miss Mary Flinn on "Redfellow." The run was fast and steady and was considered one of the most successful that the club has ever had, barring the fact that a number of those who have usually taken part were prevented from participating on account of their mounts being disabled from one cause or another. The finish was spirited, with Miss Flinn leading the ladies in fine style.

The ladies who participated were Miss Mary Flinn, Miss Gertrude Mueller, Miss Lillian Taylor and Miss Blanche Harper. F. M. Lowrie was on Rapidan, H. N. Vanvoorhis on Sharp Keitch, P. E. Donner on Caffery, W. L. Elkins on Leesburg, D. C. Byers on Headlight, Charles M. Speer, Jr., on Searchlight, J. R. Phillips on Raleigh, W. P. Darley on Cibola, J. R. Tingle on Queenie, H. L. Collins on Lucania, D. B. Collins on Volley, W. H. Flannigan on The Arab, George Kennedy on Hotspur, E. J. House on London, E. W. Webb on Wild Fire, G. M. Laughlin on Buckeye, George W. Ebhard on Blue Boy, H. C. Fryg on The Cat and F. H. Hussey.

Among those in the gallery were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hartje, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Taylor, Mrs. Murphy, Albert and Gretchen Pack, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown, 2d, and Mrs. Linford S. Smith, Miss Ella Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Kauge, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Jenkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rook, Mr. A. R. Carroll, Miss Bargaley, W. B. Rhodes and J. G. Glessencamp.

Dinner was served in the evening in the dining room of the club house for ladies and their escorts and in the log house for the men alone. About 75 members were present during the evening.

YALE BEAT THE TIGERS.

Boys in Blue Got a Fine Start and Increased the Lead by Fine Team Work.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 30.—Yale surprised even her warmest supporters by winning from Princeton this afternoon an exciting but loosely played game in the championship series by the score of 10 to 6. At no stage of the contest was it certain that Yale would hold the lead she had gained in the first inning, for the Princeton batters threatened to find Garvin time and again. Yale won the game on the merits of her team work, assisted greatly, however, by Princeton's errors. Four runs were secured for Yale in the first inning. Metcalf reached first on Meier's error and Wear passed him to second and got to first on Stevens' error in fielding a bunt; Barnwell bunted and Stevens made another error, filling the bases. Cote pounded out a fine single, sending the three men home and reaching second while the ball was being sent around the diamond, Green muffing the throw-in to head off Barnwell. Stevens gave Winslow a pass first, Sherman flew out to Davis, Miller was given his base on balls and Littlefield and Garvin, by grounders, succeeded in sending the Princeton fielders into the air in endeavoring to stop Cote at third, finally permitting him to score.

The sixth inning was Princeton's harvest of three runs. Brown got a single and was out at second by Wells' grounder, but Davis and Green hit opportunely, filling the bases. Stevens went out on a fly to Metcalf. Steinwender hit to Miller, who fielded the ball cleanly and threw to Littlefield. He muffed the catch and Wells, Davis and Green scored. The remainder of the game was uneventful, except for Winslow's fine work in fielding Taylor's hot liner.

CORNELL THE WINNER

Early Captured the Triangular Eight-Oared Race from Syracuse and Harvard.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 30.—Cornell easily won the triangular eight-oared race on Lake Cayuga. Syracuse finished second, over three lengths behind, and Harvard's Newell club eight was beaten by more than four lengths. Cornell covered the two miles in 10:48.

All the crews caught the water together, Cornell rowing at a rate of 34 strokes to the minute. The Syracuse stroke was 36 and Harvard's 38. After a dozen strokes each crew settled down to 31, 32 and 34 respectively. Cornell maintained this rate practically throughout. Syracuse rowed 32 until near the finish. Harvard threatened to go to second place. Then Coach Sweetland's men answered to the call and increased their final advantage to a length and a half over the Crimson oarsmen.

The Ithacans finished fully all the time and were fresh at the finish. Two or three of the Syracuse oarsmen were exhausted. The Harvard men were less fatigued.

DIVIDED HONORS.

Pittsburgh College and Charleroi Each Won a Game Yesterday.

Pittsburgh college made its annual appearance at Charleroi, and as usual attracted a large crowd. Two games were played, and every spectator admitted that better ones had not been seen at Charleroi baseball park.

Both games ended sensationally. Reese wound up the morning game by putting the ball over the fence, winning the game for Charleroi by a score of 5 to 3.

Kilgallen was on the slab for the Collegians and Parkins for Charleroi, and both did excellent work. The former, however, in the sixth, his arm having been severely injured by a pitched ball. McCambridge took his place and surprised everybody by his able work.

In the afternoon game the collegians turned the tables. Gapen was on the rubber against Dinsmore. It was a pitchers' battle, Gapen having the better end of the argument up to the ninth inning. A batting rally by Charleroi then tied the score. In the tenth they added two more. Scores:

DEMOCRATS MAY HAVE NOMINEES FOR CONGRESS

Hope to Control Lower House and Are Not Likely to Join With Citizens.

HAVE NOT MADE PROMISES

Dr. W. J. Holland Says He Will Not Seek the Republican Nomination. Guthrie's Field Manager Says That Pittsburgher Is Showing Strength.

"We are counting upon the next national house of representatives being controlled by the Democrats."

Such was the announcement made yesterday by Congressman J. K. P. Hall of Elk county, who was here on his way home from Washington. In this he voices the sentiment of all Democrats. It is what they are working for, and they are looking toward Allegheny county as a promising field.

This county will have four members in the next congress. The Republicans will make nominations and so will the Citizens. The latter are counting upon the Democrats joining hands with them. So far they have not received a promise from the Democrats that this will be done, and it is not at all likely that the Democracy will overlook the chance of breaking into Congress. A meeting of prominent local Democrats will shortly be held to decide upon the policy to be followed. It is altogether probable that it will be determined to put up four strong Democrats.

All Eyes on Pennsylvania.

The Democratic national committee, and more especially the Democratic congressional campaign committee, is watching Pennsylvania this year. It is figured that there will be a chance of breaking into the Republican stronghold and probably capturing several additional congressmen. Allegheny county is one of the fields now under option. The congressional committee is fully aware of the friction here and will insist that the local Democratic leaders take advantage of the condition.

With a regular Republican and a Citizens candidate in the field the territory promises well for the Democrats. Unless something is done to prevent the appearance of three tickets the result may be somewhat doubtful. The Citizens do not intend to put any Democrats on their congressional slate. This will leave the Democrats free to vote for a candidate of their party. It is not to be expected that Col. J. M. Guffey will overlook the chance of possibly slipping one of his friends into congress.

Holland Not a Candidate.

Dr. W. J. Holland will not be a candidate for congress in the city district. Last night he authorized this statement:

"The matter has been presented to me in tempting form, and I have given it the consideration which it deserves, but my work in other fields is so congenial and engrossing that I have determined today, with natural regret, to dismiss from my mind the congressional suggestion."

This leaves the field to James F. Burke. He has been told to go out among the delegates and if a majority of them favor him he will not meet with opposition from the organization leaders. Mr. Burke is supposed to be making hay.

In some quarters there is a disposition to have the convention nominate a man who is not considered as a candidate and allow him to make up his mind about accepting after he is in possession of the nomination. In this way it is thought that a nominee might be got who would be more generally satisfactory to all of the Republicans.

Hall May Be a Candidate.

Congressman Hall says that he may be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. When asked to state his position, he said: "I can say that I may be a candidate before the Erie convention meets." It is understood that Hall will get into the field in case the Republicans nominate Elkin.

J. Wood Clark of Indiana, who is in charge of George W. Guthrie's candidacy for governor, came in from Washington county yesterday. He is confident that the Democrats will nominate Guthrie. Clark says that in addition to Allegheny, Guthrie will have the delegates from Beaver, Butler, Lawrence and Washington. In Westmoreland he will get half of the delegation. The prospects of securing Blair, Cambria, Clearfield, Clarion and Armstrong are good, especially if Hall should not be a candidate. His chances of securing the votes from Fayette and Somerset are not so promising. It is understood that as between Robert E. Pattison and Guthrie, ex-Judge Gordon of Philadelphia and his friends will favor the candidacy of the Pittsburgher.

Society

SOCIETY spent yesterday in the country. The country clubs were crowded with visitors all day long and the golf links throughout the city and at the clubs were the scenes of tournaments which were witnessed by many who drove out to the grounds for the events.

At the new Allegheny Country club, Sewickley Heights, there was a brilliant golf tournament for the president's cup, offered by Mr. Harry Darlington. The links, starting away just in front of the club house, were a pretty sight and a big gallery gathered at the opening of the event to cheer the players. The majority of the company, particularly the feminine portion, remained upon the broad piazzas which constitute the great delight of the club members. Tea was served there informally in the afternoon. In the evening there was an informal promenade concert and dance, both the great reception hall and the wide piazzas being utilized by the dancers. The club house was filled over night, quite a party of people having gone down to spend Memorial day, Saturday and Sunday at the club. This afternoon and evening and every Saturday afternoon and evening throughout the season there will be an orchestra at the club house.

The ride of the Hunt club, preceded by informal tea and followed by a hunt supper, proved a great attraction at the Pittsburgh Country club, the former Phillips property, in Squirrel hill, yesterday. All day long driving parties went out to the club house and by the afternoon several hundred people were in attendance ready for the Hunt club's ride at 5 o'clock. Several of the women took part in it and their course was observed from the wide porches of the club house and from vantage points upon the extensive grounds. The bright apparel of the riders, the spirit and grace of the thorough-breds which bore them over the beautiful roads into the park and the daintiness and beauty of the group of exquisitely gowned women who filled the club house, formed an attractive and picturesque picture in the early evening.

At the Pittsburgh Golf club there was golf, followed by several informal dinners in the club dining room and the members of the Highland Golf club followed the caddies from link to link, both morning and afternoon. At the Westmoreland Golf club a tournament was in progress yesterday which was witnessed by several coaching parties. The Brighton Country club, the former scene of the tournaments of the Allegheny Country club for the president's cup, was a rendezvous for members of the new club which has leased the property. A golf tournament, tennis matches and ping-pong parties were among the events scheduled.

Wellman—Cadwallader.

In Kittanning on Wednesday the marriage of Miss Clara Ridley Wellman, fourth daughter of the late A. E. Wellman, of that place, and Myron Stanley Cadwallader of Franklin, was solemnized. The wedding took place in the home of the bride and was a very pretty affair. The bride wore a traveling dress of rich blue cloth and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her only attendants were two little flower girls, Clara Shindel of Franklin, and Mary Edna Schaffnitt of Bellevue. The Rev. H. L. Mayers performed the ceremony. A cousin of the bride, Miss McClutcheon of Pittsburgh, played the wedding march. Among the wedding guests were Mrs. McKeever, Miss Mary McKeever and Charles McKeever, and and Mr. and Mrs. Schaffnitt and their son and daughter, William and Mary of Bellevue; Mrs. Susan Kepple and Albert Kepple of Vandergrift, and John Cadwallader of Cornopolis. Mr. and Mrs. Cadwallader left after the wedding supper for a bridal trip and will make their home in Franklin, where the bridegroom is in business.

League Games Today.

The best the champion Pirates could do in the way of celebrating Memorial day was an even break with their cleverest rival, Chicago. The champions won the morning game by a score of 8 to 6, with 6,500 admirers looking on, but in the afternoon they suffered their first shut-out of the season, while 12,000 of as faithful rooters as ever graced a ball game groaned in the agony of their dispair.

It was a pity that the champions could not have turned in a victory to please that great, good-natured crowd. When the spectators saw that their rooting efforts were of no avail, they turned in and showered their applause on Jock Menefee, the pride of Monessen, who did pitching stunts in the Monongahela Valley league some 22 years ago. It's a bit tough to get a solid knock in the neck from one of your own fellow-citizens, but that is what happened yesterday afternoon. Menefee is to blame for the whole business, although he got valuable assistance from Rowdy O'Connor, whose efforts to loft the ball over the right field fence enabled the visitors to score three of their tallies.

Was a Good-Natured Crowd.

The big crowd, while not a record-breaker, was acute as well dressed and as good-natured as one could find in a year's journey. Of course, the people were out to root for the champions, and they did when there was the least occasion. It was a fair-minded crowd, willing to applaud good plays on the part of the visitors. No team ever put up a prettier exhibition of baseball than did Frank Selee's boys yesterday afternoon.

It was a lucky thing for Umpire Tom Brown that the afternoon game resulted in a shut out for the Pirates. Brown, who is giving the decisions on the base plays, called Dexter safe at first base in the fatal sixth inning, when Wagner had him thrown out by at least a step. This got the players as well as the crowd after him, and he added to their anger in the same inning by declaring O'Hagan safe at third when it looked as if Leach had touched him out as he slid into the base. Then, in an effort to even things, he called Lowe out at second when that player was clearly safe.

Decisions Made Crowd Angry.

These decisions had no direct bearing on the result of the game, as Chicago would have won anyhow, but they served to stir up the ugly passions and for a time things took on a threatening look. However, the crowd, finding Menefee pitching such magnificent ball that the champions could not get a run over the plate, forget its anger and the game ended as peacefully as a prayer-meeting. The champions were hopping mad, and one or two of them made efforts to hit the umpire with the ball, for which they should have been ejected from the game.

Deacon Phillippe, who was on the rubber for the Pirates, also pitched a fine game, but his support was very ragged, particularly in the sixth inning, when O'Connor, in an effort to head off O'Hagan at first base and complete a double play, fired the ball so far over Bransfield's head that it took steady work on the part of Lefty Davis to keep the ball from rolling into the crowd that fringed the outfield. This threw let in three runs and the Deacon forced the other one in by hitting a batsman when the bases were filled.

Pirates Never Had a Chance.

The champions had no more chance to win the game than a jack rabbit to whip an elephant. The contest, however, produced some pretty plays. Chief among them was a running one-hand catch of a foul fly by Fred Clarke. A double row of people circled the playing field, and a ground rule was necessary, which gave a batsman three bases for a hit into the crowd. The ball was not once hit that far.

The morning game was a bitterly-fought contest from start to finish and it required great pitching on the part of Chesbro to enable the champions to nose out a victory. The game started with Eddie Doheny in the box for the local team. He pitched splendidly until the seventh inning, when he let down and this, with some dopey playing, enabled the visitors to score five runs and come within one tally of tieing the score. The bombardment and poor work of the home players almost drove the 6,500 spectators into spasms.

Happy Jack Saved the Game.

With but one out and runners on third and second bases, Chesbro was called on to save the game, and right nobly did he respond. The next two batters went out in short order, one on a pop fly to Bransfield and the other on strikes. In the eighth and ninth innings the visitors had runners on the bases, and a hit meant a tie score at least, but Happy Jack kept the hit from being made. It was a grand display of pitching on short notice, and was fully appreciated by the crowd.

St. Vrain, the southpaw who has been making a clever showing for Chicago, was on the rubber for that team and got his likeliest trouncing of the season, the champions managing to get hits when they meant runs. The stars of the morning game were Wagner, who made two remarkable plays, and Harry Smith, whose clever catching and good batting won the young man a warm spot in the affections of the spectators.

The game was attended by 250 of Smith's friends from Massillon, O., who presented to him a handsome diamond ring. He rewarded them with a display of Clever baseball work. The scores:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The first shut-out of the season and the lemonade boys singing. "Ain't that a shame."

The hot stumping practice was started by the crowd in the eighth and ninth, but it did not appear to have the least effect on Menefee.

The happiest man after the game was Jock Menefee, the ex-Pittsburgher. He was heartily congratulated by old friends and acquaintances.

"It's just like a letter from home," said Menefee as he walked in to the Chicago bench big time after the contest. "I wanted to win this game more than $1,000."

"We can beat Chicago, but it's another proposition to attempt to beat Brown and Chicago, too," said Wagner to O'Hagen, as he came in from the field in the last inning.

Charley Brown again umpired a good game. The Chicago players objected for the first three innings on his judgment on balls and strikes, but after that not a decision was questioned. Adam Miller had died in the first the crowd yelled at Phillippe to show up Jones. The big Deacon tried hard, but the foxy Chicagoan reached the initial bag on Wagner's slow throw.

Rowdy Jack wanted to argue. He always does. Power wouldn't stand for it, however, and he was too far away from Brown to make connections. Jack could not strike his bat-stand yesterday.

Pitcher Taylor grew very chipper on the coaching lines in the first few innings. Must have won a game somewhere.

"I did and I don't wear rubber collars, either," was the remark Taylor hurled back.

"Oh, this morning's one of the beatings we are going to give you from now on," said Captain Lowe to Captain Clarke after the game. "We will rest a few of the others and will just prepare a few surprises for your crew later."

When the crowd broke for the right field bleacher gate in the ninth, Menefee took a look and then called Captain Lowe. Lowe called Clarke and the umpires and did not want to finish the game with the crowd inside the lines.

St. Vrain, the Chicago pitcher, got a funny hit in the eighth inning. He had just got out of the way of one of Chesbro's benders and the ball, striking his bat, went into the infield. Where none of the infielders could get their hands on it.

Manager Clarke turned a clever trick in the fourth when he bumped into Tinker at second base and made him drop the ball, allowing two runs to score. The Chicago players made a loud kick, but Umpire Brown did not see any bumping.

The Pirates may justly attribute their defeat yesterday afternoon to the excellent pitching of Menefee. He was in the game at all stages and there was never a moment when he were in the air. What few hits the champs did get were all scattered.

"Oh, fury! I do wish it would rain," shouted a sweet girl graduate from one of the boxes when Chicago had pounded in three of their four runs in the sixth inning. "It is just too bad that the champions have to lose this afternoon's game when they made such a glorious finish this morning."

Wagner was a fielding wonder in the morning game when he made two plays which were hair raisers. The first was his left-hand pick up of what looked like a sure hit over second base from Lowe's bat in the fourth inning, and the second was his catch of a liner off Jones' bat in the fifth.

"Hold him steady, Jock! Shoot 'em around his neck! You have only a few more babies to knock down!" These were just a few of the thrusts a right field bleacher shot at the champions. He made an open declaration that he had 6 cents bet on the Windy City team, and if such is true, he did not win enough as he did about $40 worth of rooting.

Fred Clarke contributed the sensational play of the afternoon game. In the third inning Miller, who was batting last, put up a high fowl near the left field bleachers, which Clarke started after on a hard run. As he neared the ball he stuck out his right hand, which was unnoticed, and to the surprise of the crowd the ball stuck there. The manager was compelled to doff his cap.

Bowerman was also forced to retire on account of an injured thumb and Yeager took his place. The home team could do nothing with Fraser's delivery. The score:

HOMESTEAD BATS WELL

Risher's Men Wield the Stick to Great Advantage in Second Contest and Had No Trouble Whitewashing Verners.

Homestead defeated the Verners in two interesting games yesterday. The morning game was played at Friendship park and the afternoon game at Steel Works park, Homestead.

Lawrence and Hart were the opposing pitchers in the morning and Jones and Loy in the afternoon game. Nice work was done by all four men.

Errors by the Verners were responsible for several of H. L. A. C.'s runs in the morning game.

ALPERMAN'S STAR WORK.

His Sensational Fielding and Batting Helped Millvale Win Two Games.

The morning game at Millvale between the East End Athletics and Millvale was a slugging match, which the home team won by better judgment and team work. The principal feature of the game was a clever one-hand pick-up by Alperman, and by a splendid throw to first retired the runner.

The afternoon game was a pitchers' battle, and a beauty at that. Cushman struck out 11 men and allowed two singles, scoring a shutout. Morris allowed Millvale four singles, of which Alperman had three, he easily being the star of the afternoon. The playing of Stuart at short was fine.

JONES PITCHED WELL.

But His Support Was Wretched and Homestead Reserves Lost to California.

CALIFORNIA, PA., May 30.—(Special.)—The California boys easily defeated the Homestead Reserve team by a score of 8 to 2. The California team hit the ball hard, and that with the fielding of Homestead, was the cause of the defeat.

Jones deserves especial mention for his strike-out record, but the fielding was enough to discourage any one. G. Lewellen and Denny played a nice game. Lewellen made three hits, one of which was a two-bagger and another a triple. The score:

TRIPLE PLAY MADE.

Pittsburgh High School Scores One Against East Liberty Team.

Pittsburgh High School won two games yesterday afternoon from the East Liberty club. Henning was in rare form in the first game and let the East End boys down with but two hits.

A triple play was the feature of the game, the first reported among the local schools. Patterson caught a fly in middle and threw a man out at second to Rogers, who threw to Curran at third, catching the runner easily. Taylor pitched well the second game. His batting was the feature.

CARNAHAN'S HOME RUN.

It Won First Game for Wilmerding Against Cottage Team.

Two of the most closely contested games of yesterday were played on the Wilmerding field between the Wilmerding nine and the Cottage team of Homewood. It required 11 innings to settle each contest, Wilmerding being successful in both.

Carnahan's home run won the morning game, and the terrific batting of the Wilmerding team carried through the afternoon game. The two clubs will again play today at Wilmerding.

TWO COLLEGES TIE FOR HONORS IN FIELD MEET

By Beating University Out in Relay, Wash.-Jeff. Saves Red and Black's Bacon.

A BARGAIN IN HIGH JUMP

By Dividing Points for First and Second Place, W. & J. Man Loses a Chance for Victory—Deevers Outclasses All in Sprints.

The winning of second place in the one-mile relay race, the climax of the Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate championship, enabled Washington and Jefferson to overcome a lead of two points and tie Western university for the honors in the field meet at Recreation park yesterday afternoon, with a record of 45 points each. Westminster had 34 points, Pittsburgh college and West Virginia each 6 and Geneva 4. The unusual proceeding of dividing points for first and second places by the W. & J. and Westminster contestants in the high jump lost to Washington and Jefferson the possibility of winning the honors by a single point, which the red and black would have gained if McKnight had fought out the finish and won the high jump.

Events Slowly Conducted.

Though the meet wearied the 1,000 spectators by its start an hour late and the way the competition was allowed to drag, the contest by the three leading schools was close and exciting. Western University won a leading position early in the day by a runaway in the bike events, McClain and McCready, unopposed, bagging 16 points.

With all the sprints and runs out of the way things looked decidedly rosy for Wup, with 42 points to but 23 for W. & J. and 19 for Westminster. W. & J. took first in the hammer, however, and first, second and third with the discus, bringing the visitors up to 38 against 42 for Wup. Wup took not a place in the high jump, and here the bargain gave W. & J. 42 against 43 for Wup.

Relay Race Was the Climax.

The exciting event of the day was here pulled off, and W. & J., by taking second place, gained three points to Wup's 2 for third place, tieing honors. There was great excitement over the protest of Lamble by W. & J., as a student of the preparatory department at Westminster instead of the collegiate. If Lamble had been disqualified from first place in the half mile a W. & J. man would have gone to first, giving the red and black the meet. Westminster filed an affidavit and at a late hour last night it was decided that the protest would not be allowed.

The relay race attracted the greatest interest, as the championship hinged upon whether Westminster or W. & J. could win. While of W. & J. finished the first relay ahead, but Westminster easily pulled ahead afterward, Deevers, the star of the meet, winning as he pleased a third of a lap to the good.

Few Good Records Made.

None of the records made was good except the 10 1-5 seconds by Deevers in the final of the 100-yard dash. As the newly-made track was rough and slow, this was fast time. Deevers also won the 220-yard dash without being pushed. The weights and jumps were all slow. Worcester was Wup's best man in the track events and While and Richie W. & J.'s. Westminster had pretty much her own way in the sprints. The summary:

100-yard dash—First heat, won by Richie of W. & J.; second, McDonnell of Pittsburgh college. Time, 10 4-5 seconds.

BUSINESS MEN SEE BRIGHTNESS IN THE FUTURE

Labor Troubles Only Depressing Influence in Financial World Today.

MONEY MARKET IS EASY

Agricultural Sections Are Prosperous and Other Industries Must Share in the Good Things—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 30.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Ease in the money market, favorable crop prospects and confidence abroad are the encouraging factors which outweigh the disturbing elements of labor conflicts and unseasonable weather for retail trade at many points. Effects of the depressing influences are less keenly felt because they are believed to be only temporary and confidence is expressed that with the resumption of work and normal temperature there will be a return to the liberal distribution of merchandise. Despite the short corn crop last year the large yield of wheat and high prices for both resulted in the greatest value for the two crops ever recorded, which means that the agricultural sections are prosperous and other industries must share the good fortune by increased sales of products.

Efforts to place contracts for 100,000 tons of pig iron, deliverable in the second quarter of 1903, indicate the confidence of leading consumers as to the future of this industry. There is no cessation of activity at the mills and finished products are forwarded to importune consumers as rapidly as possible.

No improvement is reported at New England boot and shoe centers, where the shops are still running only about half time. There is a little more activity in the grades that declined last week, but no indication of recovery in prices and other varieties tend downward.

Recent advances in leather are maintained, with belting butts freely purchased. Imported hides are scarce and strong, but domestic packer hides are more quiet. Stocks of textile fabrics are not accumulating, although the markets are extremely quiet.

Domestic jobbing trade is fairly satisfactory, but exports of cotton goods are small. Print cloths are dull and unchanged, with the situation unsettled as to new prices for the fall. Clothing manufacturers are purchasing woolen goods in moderation only and larger deliveries by the leading company increases the disposition toward conservatism.

Prospects are bright for a large yield of cotton. Dispatches have been received from correspondents of R. G. Dun & Co. stated in all parts of the cotton belt and returns are unanimously encouraging. Failures for the week number 194 in the United States against 148 last year and 20 in Canada against 27 a year ago.

Real Estate Men Are Busy With Lot Plans

Yesterday was a busy day for many real estate agents, although all the city offices were closed. Every available salesman was pushed into service on lot plans, special Memorial day sales having been advertised extensively. Free transportation and other inducements drew large crowds to the suburbs in search of home sites, and some excellent sales were reported. At New Homestead the Real Estate Trust Company had a large force of extra salesmen on the ground to wait on mill workers who were spending the holiday looking for a good investment.

The West park plan No. 2, at McKees Rocks, is proving fully as good a seller as the first plan opened there last year, both of which have been handled by Hans & Lauinger. Yesterday was a boom day on the plan, many Pittsburgh mechanics being among the purchasers. At West Carnegie the W. H. Skivington Company had arranged to care for a large crowd of buyers and were not disappointed. J. Walter Hay's Memorial day sale on his University park plan in Perryaville avenue, Allegheny, drew even larger crowds than the opening attraction and the plan is nearly all disposed of.

The La Belle View plan at Steubenville, O., which is being handled by the Duquesne Realty Company, is proving one of the best sellers on the market, and last night it was reported that considerably over 300 of the 755 lots had been sold. Most of the purchasers are from Wheeling and Steubenville.

The Munhall Valley Land Company has disposed of 75 lots in its plan near Homestead. The lots are 25x120 feet each and brought together $19,500. Plans are being prepared for at least 20 houses, which will be erected by purchasers this summer.

The Public Trust Company has just completed the survey of its plan of 252 lots at Butler and will put them on the market in about two weeks. The land, which lies in the bend between the two branches of the Connoquenessing creek, was bought when the Butler boom first started. It has a frontage of about 1,300 feet along West Wayne street, which will be the main thoroughfare from the court house to the immense plant of the Standard Steel Car Company and is about 400 feet wide. The lots also face in McCool avenue, Negley, Upper Shore and Lower Shore streets. They are 25x75 feet each and will be sold at prices ranging from $500 upward. The work of excavating for the big steel plant is now nearly completed and within a short time an army of workmen will be busy.

Through the agency of W. A. Herron & Sons, Venanzio Milane has sold to Peter Avetta an irregular shaped lot with extreme dimensions of 38x72 feet, at the southwest corner of Second avenue and Ross street, Second ward, for $10,500. The property is improved with a frame building.

Erin street: The Mercantile Trust Company of Pittsburgh, guardian, sold to Giovanni Pasquinelli an improved lot, 50x72 feet, on the west side of Erin street, near Webster avenue, Eleventh ward, for $1,625.

Preble avenue: John C. Langfitt sold for William Hartman to David Gelp three two-story frame buildings on a lot 60x120 feet, at Nos. 672-676 Preble avenue, Ninth ward, Allegheny, for $7,500. The same brokers sold for Sibastian Hyman to John Olive a two-story frame house, lot 23x100 feet, at No. 25 McClure avenue, same ward, for $5,100; also for F. F. Brierly of Beaver Falls to W. J. Langfitt, three lots, 66x100 feet, on the west side of McClure avenue, for $1,800.

A dispute is on at Pitcairn over the ownership of the property on which the Y. M. C. A. is erecting a building. The specifications call for a $35,000 building and two weeks ago the foundation was completed. It now appears that a former owner, McGinnis, alleges that the property is his because the railroad company, former owners of the property, are allowing it to be used for other purposes than those stated when it was taken from him by condemnation. The story of the trouble dates back 25 years, when the Pennsylvania Railroad Company acquired the property through right of eminent domain.

THE OIL FIELDS.

Out of respect, and in reverence of the memory of those who answered their country's call when the severance of the union of states was threatened and later, when the oppressive hand of Spain's tyranical rule must be stopped in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands, all men, many of whom survived the first great struggle, put aside their labors for the day and joined in paying tribute to the memory of those who had been once comrades, and shared with them the trials and hardships of the march or the privations of camp life, later to fall on the firing line or succumb to some dread disease, contracted by exposure while in the line of duty.

Field reports, such as usually characterize a holiday, were very light and the wires that sifted through telling of new strikes were unimportant.

In the "Little Germany" district in Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test well on the A. C. Hartley farm and will start a show for a 20-barrel producer.

In the Pine Grove district in Wetzel county, L. S. Hoyt & Co. have completed No. 63 on the L. S. Hoyt tract, and have a 45-barrel producer in the Gordon sand. The same company's No. 61 on the L. S. Hoyt tract has a show for a 20-barrel producer. Neither has been shot.

West of Wallace in Doddridge county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the Alva H. Heldreth farm and the well is producing 200 barrels a day.

Southeastern Ohio.

All efforts to find an extension to the new Keener sand pool west of Jerusalem, Monroe county, Ohio, meet with disappointment. The territory to the west and southwest has been condemned and now the Ohio Oil Company flashes up a failure on the Joseph Griffith farm, located one-half mile east of the Unity Oil Company's production on the Peter Harris and three-quarters of a mile southeast of the same company's No. 1 on the Harper farm. It is now quite certain that this pool will not extend into the area of the Ohio Oil Company's development in Monroe county.

In the Benwood district Soliday & Co. have completed a test well on the Martha Roth farm and have a duster in all sands, including the Berea grit.

In the Marietta district, Washington county, George L. Craig & Co. have completed No. 12 on the Rickards farm and have a 15-barrel producer in the first Cow run sand.

In the Rinards Mills district the Harriman Oil Company has completed its test well on the W. P. Knowlton farm and has a duster in the Big Injun sand.

MARKETS AND BANKS WERE CLOSED

The Pittsburgh stock exchange and local financial institutions were all closed yesterday—Decoration day. The same rule applied all over the United States. Today the banks will resume business at the usual hour, but the stock exchange will be closed, the Chicago board of trade only being open. All will resume Monday morning at the regular time.

The steamer Greenwood, departing yesterday for the Kanawha river, brought a good tron of freight and passengers, but her out-going trip was light, on account of yesterday being a holiday.

The pilots' headquarters was deserted yesterday and business was extremely quiet all along the river front, except for the few excursion boats moving, which attracted many persons to the river.

The Monongahela-Virginia is on good time, and on account of the excellent stage of water will be able to take all of the freight offered. The boat will also have a number of round trip passengers who will leave today.

BRYAN PREDICTS CIVIL WAR.

Foresees Trouble Ahead in Cuba's Attempt at Self-Government.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30.—"I predict that Cuba will be the scene of civil war, that internal strife growing out of dissension among the political leaders will temporarily paralyze the industries of the island."

Burglars Comparatively Gentlemen.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Daniel Hill, the wealthy board of trade man who was shot in his bed a week ago was today allowed to talk by his physicians. "I was shot by burglars," said he. "And I want to say that I have a lot more respect for these burglars than for the people who have been insinuating that Mrs. Hill had some connection with the shooting."

COAL FLEET MOVING.

The Advance Guard Is Due in Cincinnati Early Tomorrow.

The advance guard of the towboat fleet that left Pittsburgh Wednesday and Thursday began passing Parkersburg yesterday, and with good luck the boats should arrive at Cincinnati tomorrow, as there is splendid water from Point Pleasant down.

The towboats Fred Wilson, Dave Wood, Cruiser and Fallie, it is stated, will take all the tows through to Cincinnati, the other towboats returning to this port. All of the boats are being watched with the Enterprise bringing up the rear end of the procession. The following towboats arrived light yesterday: Tornado, B. D. Wood, Volunteer, Nellie Walton, J. C. Risher. The Ohio river is falling slowly, but there is an excellent stage of water for the coaders, and river men are of the opinion that there will be rain in a day or two and further rises in the rivers.

Holiday Conditions Rule the Market

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Eggs Firmer With Prices Still Advancing—More Talk of Lower Flour.

Holiday conditions prevailed throughout the market yesterday, and there were no price changes, so that the dealers are brought face to face with a very strong situation on account of the scarcity of stock and quotations are stiffer. Best eggs will likely bring 18 cents a dozen today, and it is not likely any candled stock will be sold below 17 cents, while a fraction higher than that may be the lowest figure.

There was no call at the grain exchange, and but little business was transacted by merchants. Wholesale grocers were at their places of business for a short time in the morning and a few sales were made, but stores closed early and not much was done. There is still some talk of lower flour prices, and some jobbers have commenced to make concessions from former prices. Reports from winter wheat districts continue most favorable for a heavy crop, and this is having its influence on the market for flour. In fruits and provisions the trade was going, the fact that the holiday came on Friday, the heavy buying day of the week, made more business than would otherwise have been the case, but quotations were not affected. Butter, cheese, poultry and provisions are unchanged.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS.
The Bald Butte Company pays monthly dividends of 1 per cent, with semi-annual EXTRA DIVIDENDS in July and December of each year.
The dividends paid thus far this year amount to $75,000 and the grand total since 1899, $1,192,148.
The monthly net earnings of this Company are considerably in excess of the dividends paid, so we expect to see the EXTRA DIVIDENDS paid this year exceed by far anything hitherto paid.

BRIGHTON ROAD LOTS

The Kleber Plan, in Allegheny.

The Finest Lots in the Two Cities.
Adjoining the Brighton Country Club.

Only 25 minutes from the business center of Pittsburgh.

These desirable lots are not situated in the middle of the farm; they are in the heart of the very best residential district of Allegheny, running 600 feet along Brighton road and 400 feet back toward Bellevue. Avalon, adjoining and being a part of the property until recently occupied by the Allegheny Country Club.

This property is level, lies high and dry and is free from the city smoke and dirt, being, in fact, cleaner and healthier than Bellevue, Avalon, the East End and other nearby suburbs.

The Brighton road and California ave. cars pass this property, requiring about 25 minutes to reach the business center of Pittsburgh. The property is located about half way between Allegheny and Bellevue.

Don't Wait

Buy a lot for investment or a home. Reference to the above plan will show that these lots are amply large for roomy houses and lawns.

Considering the high quality of these most desirable home sites, the prices at which they can be bought are the most reasonable that were ever put on such gilt-edge property. Plans mailed on application. 'Phone 1528 Grant and 614 Penn, or call on Size over all, 100' wide, 544' long. Main structure is 50' 8" wide, with a lean-to on each side 27' 8" wide. The length is divided into three sections, the two end sections being 192' long and 232' long, respectively, with 48' between, intended for railroad track, and shipping room. There is a crane runway through main structure, and the building is self-guying, and being a part of the property until recently occupied by the Allegheny Country Club.

This property is level, lies high and dry and is free from the city smoke and dirt, being, in fact, cleaner and healthier than Bellevue, Avalon, the East End and other nearby suburbs.

The Brighton road and California ave. cars pass this property, requiring about 25 minutes to reach the business center of Pittsburgh. The property is located about half way between Allegheny and Bellevue.

CHURCH EVENTS FOR TOMORROW ARE INTERESTING

New Edificie to Open and Corner Stone of Another to Be Laid.

STRANGERS WILL PREACH

Delegates to the United Presbyterian General Assembly Will Occupy Many Pulpits—Prominent Welsh Baptist to Be Heard.

Two events of interest in the church world tomorrow will be the opening of the new St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, Forbes street, and the laying of the corner stone of the new Catholic Church of St. John the Baptist, in Liberty avenue. The opening of St. Peter's, of which the Rev. Dr. E. H. Ward is rector, will be marked by a special sermon by the rector. Vicar General, the Very Rev. Father E. A. Bush of St. Peter's church, Allegheny, is to officiate at the laying of the corner stone of St. John the Baptist's church. The Rev. Father E. M. McKeever is pastor. The church will cost $65,000. Catholic societies will participate in the parade which will precede the corner stone laying.

Ministers of the United Presbyterian church attending the 44th general assembly have been assigned to preach morning and evening sermons in nearly all the United Presbyterian churches hereabouts, and in many of the Presbyterian churches and those of other denominations. The assignments will be found in connection with the report of the assembly proceedings.

At the Chatham Street Baptist church the pulpit will be filled morning and evening by the Rev. William Morris of Rhondda Valley, South Wales, who will also preach in the Welsh language at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Morris has recently entered upon his 34th year as pastor of the same church, into which he has received 3,000 members. He has served as secretary of the Baptist union of Wales, which numbers over 100,000 persons, and at the end of 20 years' service was chosen moderator. He is chairman of the largest school board in Wales and is one of the governors of the intermediate school, vice president of the federation of schools for Wales, a member of the council and governor of the University of South Wales. His object in visiting this country is to study the American school system.

A special service for old persons will be held at the Emory Methodist Episcopal church at 10:45. Carriages will be sent for all aged members and friends of the church. The pastor, the Rev. Arthur D. Mink, will preach an old folks' sermon and old-time hymns will be sung. Every aged person will receive a fine floral souvenir.

The Rev. John W. Kerns, the newly-elected pastor of the First Christian church, Allegheny, will be installed today and will preach in the evening. The morning service will be devoted to the Sunday school, which will observe children's day.

Some Remarkable News for Men.

A Sale of White Negligee Shirts for Half-a-Dollar Each.

Fifty cents is an extremely little price to pay for any kind of a shirt. Big enough if the shirt is not good. We take no stock in cheap shirts—wouldn't have them in our haberdashery.

But these shirts which we are going to sell to-day for 50c are unusually good—worth much more than 50 cents. They were made for us on a special order.

Made of white madras finished with assorted hair line white stripes. Every attention has been given to the making and the finishing.

That every man who sees the shirts will be delighted is our opinion and we have no hesitancy in giving it.

On sale this morning at 8 o'clock. Sizes from 13 1-2 to 17 inclusive.

Happy Childhood Knows What's Best

Medicine that a child dislikes, will not do it much good. Sensible parents will give the little darlings medicine that tastes good and does good, and don't grip or gripe; the kind they like themselves.

"I rely upon Cascarets entirely in looking after our children's health."—Mrs. Ellen Burwell, 1812 Division St., St. Louis.

"My little boy three years old was troubled with bleeding piles. We began to give him Cascarets, and before he had taken one box, he was sound and well."—W. A. Goin, Oxmulgee, I. T.

"My little daughter complained of not feeling well and began to vomit and became very sick. A half Cascaret tablet was given her and in less than half-an-hour she got up as well as ever. Cascarets are a household necessity."—Thos. J. Mosk, P. M., Trenton, Pa.

"My little girl was greatly troubled with worms, but after giving her a 25c box of Cascarets she is entirely well."—Mrs. John F. Biley, 6 Butler St., Gloucester, Mass.

"I have never used any remedy that has been as good as Cascarets. Have to keep them hidden from my little boy, as he eats them like candy."—Mrs. Robt. G. Fay, Goss, Ohio.

"I shall never be without Cascarets. My children are always delighted when I give them a portion of a tablet, and cry for more. They have a permanent place in my home."—Mrs. John Flagel, Michigan City, Ind.

"We use Cascarets in our family and they are the children's friend."—Mrs. James Greenwood, Menasha, Wis.

"I always keep Cascarets in the house for the children as well as myself."—Thos. Chas. Root, 627 Lorain St., Cleveland, O.

"For months I have used Cascarets, and my little ones require no other medicine."—Mrs. O. H. Hammond, 603 5th St., Minneapolis.

Medicine forced on the little ones loses half its power. Nasty, sickening medicine is an injustice to the dear little innocents who can't protect themselves, makes them peevish and afraid of the dose. When a child hates the medicine, it will not be effective. Children like Cascarets Candy Cathartic; ask for them and are kept healthy always and easily against the damages of childhood's ailments.
